

OPENING CLASH AT CHICAGO

Eyes of Nation Turned to Fight in Republican Convention

BIG CONVENTION OPENED AT NOON BATTLE BEGAN AFTER PRAYER DELEGATES EXCITED

The fight broke out in the republican convention immediately after prayer was offered by Rev. Fr. Callaghan of Chicago. The Roosevelt men wanted certain delegates whose seats were contested prevented from voting on the question of organizing the convention. The Taft leaders objected to this procedure and Senator Penrose classed the Roosevelt contention as all rot. It was with difficulty that the aisles were cleared to allow business to proceed. Gov. Hadley, who is leading the fight on the floor for Roosevelt, started the excitement.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Prior to the meeting of the national convention at noon today (the leaders of the Taft and Roosevelt forces held their last conferences and mapped out their final plans of campaign for the day. As they started for the big Coliseum it was the announced purpose of the Roosevelt forces to delay the temporary organization of the convention as long as they could. They had two propositions. One was the original plan of a substitute roll for the temporary roll reported by the national committee and containing Roosevelt delegates in place of many of the Taft delegates seated by the committee. The other was the resolution adopted at a caucus of Roosevelt delegates early today which would seek to prevent any action by the convention except on the affirmative vote of 640 uncontested delegates. Up to noon neither side had been able to count 640 uncontested delegates as a voting unit. There was every indication that the fight would break as soon as the prayer had been offered and the call of the convention read. The Roosevelt delegates were determined that their proposition that action should be taken only by affirmative vote of 640 uncontested delegates should apply to the choice of a temporary chairman. In other years there has been no such rule, and the Taft forces declared today it was not in order.

Calls It All Rot

It was thus that Senator Penrose, whom the Roosevelt followers are inclined to consider the chief of the steamrollers, characterized the action of the Roosevelt caucus regarding the election of temporary officers for the convention.

"It is all rot," he said, "nothing but rot, and it will come to nothing. Can't you see that if we should proceed upon the principle of permitting votes by such delegates as occupy uncontested seats, it would be possible to contest all of the seats and thus reduce the proposition to an absolute absurdity."

As the seats began to fill up the 20 big policemen who had been sitting in the front row of delegates' seats stood up and "bout faced" so as to front upon the "arena" where so soon the greatest factional struggle in recent political history was expected to break into action. Thus far there had not been a ripple of any sort. The occasion for which the people were gathering might as well have been a horse show or a theatrical performance. The proportion of women present was comparatively small and there was a rather marked absence of conspicuous gowns and millinery.

A silver water service was placed at the chairman's table. An assistant sergeant at arms carefully unwrapped the three pieces from the tissue paper and arranged mug, pitcher and tray, where favored speakers or presiding officers could easily reach them.

A big mahogany gavel and a sounding board of the same material were placed for Chairman Roosevelt to be resigned presently to whoever the convention might choose as temporary chairman.

At ten minutes of twelve practically all of the delegates were on the floor but many of them either had not located or had not taken their seats. The aisles were choked and there was much confusion. The hall was a veritable "babel." Above the roar of the conversation of calls and yells the big band from its lofty perch kept pouring out more or less mournful tunes.

Victor Rosewater began pounding for order at 12:02 p. m. The band was drowning away at the time and it was with some difficulty that the musicians could be induced to desist.

Finally they did so and then Sergeant-at-Arms Stone called for assistance to clear the aisles.

"Officers, please assist," he said, turning to the hundred or more stalwarts in front of the platform. "Sit down; sit down," cried the people in the gallery, who were anxious for the proceedings to begin.

W. W. (Pudge) Hoffelinger of Minneapolis, the famous former Yale football guard, led the attack on the aisle crowds. He was acting as an assistant sergeant-at-arms. Meantime Rosewater took an occasional whack on the table with his bludgeon.

La Follette Delegates

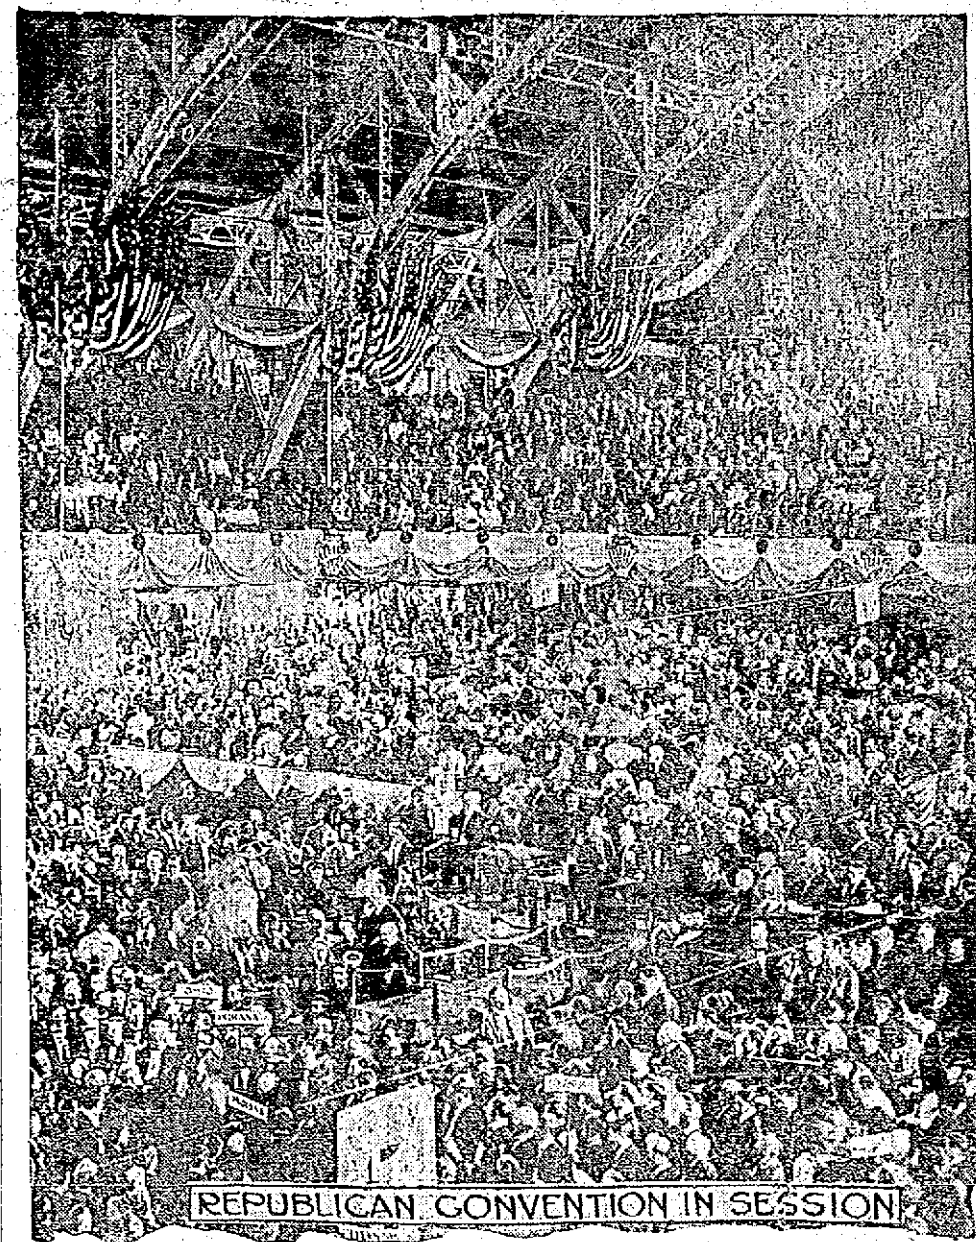

The effort to secure order was interrupted by the appearance through a side door of a big transparency carried by the La Follette delegates from Wisconsin. A cheer swept the hall as the sign was carried across before the stage.

Sharp and clear came the Wisconsin yell and led another round of cheers. "U-rah-rah; Wis-con-sin; U-rah-rah; Wis-con-sin; rah."

California's yell again punctured the air, terminating with its "Eat 'em alive; eat 'em alive, Roosevelt, Roosevelt, wow."

Senator Dixon was busy making a last sounding of the Roosevelt forces while the sergeant-at-arms sought to clear the aisles. He was aided by Governors Deneen of Illinois and Hadley of Missouri.

The packed aisles yielded slowly to the pressure and every now and then the sergeant-at-arms would advance a megaphone "everyone must get out of the aisles."

From the rear of the floor and the gallery came a sweeping yell of "Loud-er; louder; we can't hear you."

Then a series of shrill whistles rang through the hall and scattered delegations began to yell, "Teddy; Teddy."

From the other side of the hall came a harsh shrill yell of "Oh, you Bill Taft."

A running fire of yelling marked the effort to secure order, but it gradually faded out as the police cleared the way.

It was difficult to secure even a semblance of order.

"Hoffelinger, stop them coming up that aisle," called Col. Stone.

"I'll do it," shouted the former Yale guard, throwing himself at the head of the incoming stream.

Flashlight Picture

A reading clerk with a fog horn voice finally got attention at 12:15 p. m. and announced that a flashlight picture was about to be taken. The crowd was quiet. Then came a tremendous "boom" as the flashlight exploded.

The band broke into the "Star Spangled Banner" and a delegate shouted "and cheerers." The opening gun.

Some of the delegates and some of the spectators in the gallery attempted to sing but it was a sorry effort.

Gov. Hadley of Missouri, the Roosevelt floor leader, took a position with the Illinois delegates, equally as commanding as that occupied by James E. Watson of Indiana, the Taft floor leader.

Rosewater at last got the attention of the delegates with the assistance of the reading clerk and a megaphone.

"The hour of twelve having arrived," said Rosewater, glancing at a slip of paper, "and a quorum manifestly being present, the convention will be in order while the Rev. Father Callaghan will invoke divine blessing."

The introduction of the priest was greeted with applause. The prayer was short. During its delivery Rosewater kept a close eye on the clergyman and on the body of delegates.

Chaplain's Prayer

The prayer of Father Callaghan was as follows:

"In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

"Oh Almighty, Eternal and All Wise God, direct all our actions by Thy holy inspiration, so that every prayer and every work of ours may always begin from Thee, and by Thee be happily ended, through Jesus Christ, our Lord, who taught us to pray."

"Our Father, who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. Amen."

"In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

The real struggle between the rival republican candidates for the presidential nomination began shortly after noon today when Chairman Rosewater called the great convention to order.

Five hundred policemen were ordered to the convention hall to preserve order. For the first time in the history of the republican party the picture of the president was missing from the convention hall decorations.

The rival factions are lined up for battle, and a bitter fight is promised.

Many delegates murmured the Lord's prayer with Father Callaghan.

As Fr. Callaghan concluded Chairman Rosewater pounded the table with his big gavel and announced:

"The secretary of the republican national committee will read the call of this convention."

Secretary Hayward read the call.

The moment the call was completed Governor Hadley of Missouri was on his feet.

"Mr. Chairman," he called out.

"The chair recognizes Governor Hadley of Missouri," said Rosewater.

"Mr. Chairman, I rise to a question of information," said Mr. Hadley.

The governor was beckoned to the stage and made his way there amid applause.

James E. Watson of Indiana, Taft floor leader, followed him.

In the meantime William Barnes, Jr., of New York was on his feet.

"I make a point of order," he shouted, but was not recognized.

Hadley States Question

Governor Hadley then stated his question, which involved the substitution of a roll of delegates prepared by the Roosevelt forces for the temporary roll prepared by the national committee.

"I rise to inquire whether the national committee has framed for this convention a proper temporary roll," said Hadley.

James E. Watson, Taft floor leader, interrupted saying:

"Mr. Chairman, I make the point of order that nothing is in order before this convention until it has been organized."

Both Hadley and Watson were cheered as they stood on each side of the chairman's table, facing each other.

"I rose to a question of information," answered Gov. Hadley, "preliminary to making a motion."

"Until I had made that motion there was nothing to make a point of order against. I still have the recognition of the chair," he said.

Again the cheers broke out.

Gov. Hadley then presented his formal motion, to take from the temporary roll the Taft delegates and substitute the Roosevelt delegates in certain contested states.

Mr. Watson renewed his point of order before the list was read.

"The point of order seems to be well taken," said Rosewater, "but if the governor will address himself to the point of order we will hear him for 20 minutes, not wishing to be arbitrary."

Gov. Hadley called to the platform Gov. Deneen of Illinois and former Gov. Fort of New Jersey.

Secretary Hayward announced to the delegates that each side would be heard for 20 minutes.

Hadley's Argument

There was a brief consultation on the stage by the opposing forces. Then Gov. Hadley had stepped to the front of the stage and began arguing.

The plan of the Roosevelt leaders announced two days ago was being carried out apparently without regard to the action of the Roosevelt delegates last night, who voted to put in a resolution requiring 640 uncontested affirmative votes to carry any proposition.

Gov. Hadley briefly announced again his motion, and the fact that Rosewater had ruled that a point of order against the motion seemed to be well taken.

"Instead of following the illustrious example of our distinguished leader, William McKinley, when he presided in a convention and invited full debate and consideration of a point of order, the present chairman has asked only for a brief statement from each side," said Gov. Hadley.

The mention of McKinley's name evoked no applause.

"I assert," he went on, "that the question is whether the national committee of the republican party has the absolute power to form a temporary roll for this convention, which can only be changed by a report from a committee of this convention or whether this convention itself shall say who shall sit in it."

"If it is in the power of 25 men to say who shall sit in this convention arbitrarily and without appeal, then we have reached the end of representative government in this country."

A round of cheers greeted this attack on the national committee.

The delegates listened to Hadley with quiet attention.

"We know but one government in this country," he said, "government by political party."

"If a political convention can be controlled by a group of men within the party then have we established a political oligarchy. Then have we given a few men control over party and convention."

ANNUAL REUNION OF MANNING FAMILY

Were Chosen

The annual reunion of the Manning family association was held yesterday in the old and historic Manning House in Billerica. There was a large attendance as is usual every year, over one hundred of the descendants of the Manning family being present.

One of the most distinguished members of the family present was William H. Manning, the honorary president, who is 89 years of age, but he appeared to be almost as active as the young members of the family and he thoroughly enjoyed himself. The members of the family came from long distances, but the person who held the record for distance was a Manning who came from Great Falls, Montana.

The first of the family to arrive came early in the morning and from about 9 o'clock until noon different members arrived on the grounds. There were carriages at different points of the electric car line to transport the people to and from the grounds and there was a general reception during the time previous to the serving of dinner.

The dinner was served on the lawn and the menu was of the usual high order. At the conclusion of the discussion of the menu the business meeting, including the election of officers, was held. Warren H. Manning, the custodian of the house and secretary and treasurer of the association, submitted a very favorable report.

The election of the officers resulted as follows: President, Earl G. Manning; vice-president, R. A. Manning; secretary and treasurer, Warren H. Manning; historian, William H. Manning; executive committee, William H. Manning, chairman; Elmer H. Manning, H. Seymour Manning, Elizabeth Houghton, Guy Marion, Joseph McCabe, entertainment committee, Guy Marion, chairman; A. F. Adams, Miss Mabel Hall, Mrs. George Foster, Mrs. Earl W. Manning, refreshment committee, Mrs. Julia W. Fletcher, chairman; Frank Manning, Arthur Warren, Mrs. L. F. Armstrong, Mrs. Benjamin F. Manning, reception committee, Mrs. LeRoy Parkhurst, chairman; Miss Martha Warren, Miss Louise Seale, Mrs. Elizabeth Houghton, Miss Olive McCabe, Miss Edith Houghton, Mrs. Frank Manning, Scott, Miss Mabel Hall, Mrs. A. D. Marble.

William H. Manning, honorary president of the association, addressed the association and among the other speakers were Curtis Manning of Great Falls, Montana, Charles Manning of Worcester, and others.

The entertainment committee provided a brief program which included vocal and instrumental selections by Mrs. Edna Barron Felch, Miss Edith Marion, Guy Marion, E. P. Adams and E. G. Manning.

50TH ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED YESTERDAY

By Temperance Union
at Ayer

The 50th anniversary of the foundation of the Middlesex Northwest Temperance Union was observed in Ayer yesterday. The affair consisted of an all day meeting held at the Unitarian church in that town, and included interesting addresses by several notable speakers.

The session was opened at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. A. L. Bumpus of Ayer and was presided over by Rev. E. C. Hayes of Ayer. Rev. W. J. Ratt of Concord Junction delivered an important address taking as his subject, "Temperance of the Organization." The other speakers were: Rev. G. A. Gordon of Lancaster, who spoke on "Moral Aspects of Temperance Reformers of the Last Half Century"; Mrs. M. W. Shattuck of Groton; Mrs. Claverly of Leominster; Mrs. Katharine L. Stratton, state president of the W. C. T. U.

The afternoon session was opened at 1:30 o'clock with a praise service led by Rev. C. L. Pierce of West Acton. A brief business session was held, the committee on resolutions reported a resolution pledging allegiance to the work of the founders of the union, and paying tribute to them. A rising tribute was also paid to the dead members of the organization, and a resolution was adopted commending the prohibitionists of Maine for their plucky fight. A vote of sympathy was passed for Dr. Augustus Lovelady of Ayer, who is seriously ill with pneumonia. It was voted to hold the next meeting in the Baptist church at West Acton, the second Thursday in October.

The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: Rev. E. C. Hayes of Ayer, president; Rev. S. N. Adams of Concord Junction, secretary, and a vice president from each town. The larger part of the afternoon was devoted to an address on the history of the organization by Rev. S. N. Adams of Concord Junction.

The other addresses of the afternoon were: "Prohibition Legislation," by H. B. Lawton of the Anti-Saloon league, and "The Saloon," by Rev. O. P. Gifford, D. D., of Brookline. The musical part of the service included a soprano solo by Mrs. Fennell of Ayer.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

BALTIMORE, June 18.—Adherents of Speaker Champ Clark for the presidential nomination came out openly here yesterday and make it known they would make no fight on the temporary chairmanship and that any man worthy of the office would be accepted.

Stone of Missouri, leader of the Clark forces on the convention floor. Senator Stone came over from Washington and conferred with National Chairman Mack and other committeemen. When Senator Stone was informed that the arrangements committee was trying to find a man for the temporary chairmanship who was neutral, he said: "I am for Champ Clark for president. The names of several men have been suggested to me for the temporary chairmanship, but I desire to say that any man worthy to preside with dignity and fairness is satisfactory to me. The friends of Speaker Clark cannot afford to be split up over the conferring of the mere flattery honor of a minor office."

Senator Stone said that, while he believed that 3 out of 10 democrats were for the adoption of the two-thirds rule for nomination, he did not believe any action would be taken toward its abolishment at this convention.

The boom for Mayor Gaynor, started in the name of the "Democratic Association of New York," became active yesterday with the arrival of Jacob A. Cantor and William A. Black from New York. A Gaynor dinner was given last night and a resolution was passed, pledging the association to work for Mayor Gaynor's nomination. The high cost of living is to be one of the principal planks in the Democratic platform. National committeemen say this is an issue affecting everyone and already the party takes definite action. Just what form this plank will take has not been indicated. Senator Culberson of Texas was in Baltimore yesterday to look after the accommodations of 100 Wilson boom-

This indicates Burleigh's nomination for senator. In the same places Haines has 16,951 votes and is undoubtedly nominated for governor, Shaw having 4911 and Boothby 3591. None of the present representatives in congress were opposed for renomination. But there was a lively contest in the first district between Michael J. O'Brien and William M. PROBATE COURT SESSIONS HELD IN THIS CITY TODAY

Dr. and Mrs. Hilton Seek Custody of Latter's Children by a Former Marriage

Two sessions of the probate court were held this morning, the uncontested, which was presided over by Justice McIntire, and the contested with Judge Eaton. In the latter, several cases were brought to the attention of the residing justice, but all were continued to a later date.

In the uncontested session Lawyer Wilson presented a petition in behalf of Dr. George W. Hilton and his wife, Mary Elizabeth Ruth Hilton, for the custody of the latter's two children from her first marriage, Ruth Mildred Brubaker, and Constance, Columbia Brubaker, whose father, Henry James Brubaker, is living in Chicago, and to change their names, the former to Ruthen Marianne Hilton and the latter to Constance Cleopatra Hilton.

It seems that Mrs. Hilton was divorced from her first husband, Henry James Brubaker some 15 years ago, and about three years later she was married to Dr. George W. Hilton, and both are prominent Massachusetts. Mrs. Hilton's two daughters, Ruth Mildred, aged 24 years, and Constance Columbia, aged 19 years, have been living with their mother and Dr. Hilton ever since, and they are all fond of each other, the doctor especially taking much interest in the welfare of the two young women. The latter were questioned by the court relative to their position in the petition and they answered in the affirmative.

The wills presented at the uncontested session were as follows:

Elbridge Wheeler, alias Jonathan Elbridge Wheeler, Cheimsford; Letitia Robinson Lowell; Catherine J. Tilton Lowell; Annie Duffy, Lowell; Adeline Hunsdon, Lowell; Thomas Phillips, Lowell.

The administrations granted were as follows:

Louise G. Sanders, Lowell; Walter G. Goucher, Lowell; Sarah I. Goucher, Lowell; Owen Maybury, Billerica; William Percy, Lowell; John C. Hobbs, Cheimsford, and Anselme Savard, Lowell.

for some time. Mr. Ellis had been ill for several weeks, but despite his illness he refused to take to his bed, and instead continued the supervising of his work, which was a great strain on his physical condition.

This morning he went to his work and returned some time in the forenoon. He entered his barn and shortly before 11 o'clock his son Rossie went in to see what his father was doing. Upon entering the stable the young man found the body of his father hanging at the end of a rope which had been attached to a beam. He cut down the rope and Dr. James J. Cassidy was called, but when he arrived he found that the man was dead.

Deceased is survived by a wife and three children, Rossie, Rhona, and James R. Ellis. He was 65 years of age.

Prince to Live in Luxury After His Eighteenth Birthday

PRINCESS MARY AND PRINCE OF WALES.

If you were a boy of eighteen would you like to have your own "special household, with large, suites suitably appointed and set apart in two palaces, with a governor and controller of the household, an equerry and two secretaries, as well as a large staff of servants at special wages and coachmen and grooms?" Such is going to be the pomp and circumstance which will surround his royal highness the Prince of Wales after June 23, when he reaches his eighteenth birthday and his legal majority.

An ordinary Englishman reaches legal age when he becomes twenty-one. Before that time he is an infant in the eyes of the law, but not so with the Prince of Wales, eldest son of the sovereign. When he becomes eighteen he becomes a man, with all an ordinary man's rights and privileges and with a great many others that go with his exalted station.

Among the important rights which go with the attainment of legal age by the Prince of Wales is the ability to ascend the throne and govern without the aid of a regent in case of the king's death. Also, in case of the sovereign's dire misfortune or prolonged absence the Prince of Wales may at any time after June 23 act in his father's place.

At present Edward Albert, prince of Wales, resides in France, whither he was sent by his father a few months ago to acquire knowledge of the French people, language and customs. King George is desirous of cultivating the friendship of the French.

inf French life, inspecting the army and the navy. He is a sailor prince by training, like his father, and takes a keen interest in all things naval. After the celebration of his birthday in England, it was announced recently, he will return to Paris. In August he will return to England to remain permanently, beginning then his course in Oxford university.

The prince is a tall, slender, unassuming sort of person, with a thoroughly English love of sports. He dresses well, of course, but recently created a sensation in Paris by appearing in public with only the top button of his coat fastened. Immediately the leaders of fashion decided that a new mode was coming in, and idle button-holes became the rage. But, alas, the next day the prince buttoned up his coat and the new fashion died.

Prince Edward born June 23, is the eldest of the six children of King George and Queen Mary. There are five sons and one daughter. The latter is known officially as Princess Victoria Alexandra Alice Mary, but by the British public and the world in general she is called Princess Mary. She is only a young girl of fifteen, but there are already surmises concerning her matrimonial future. She will have considerable to say about that when the time comes, for she is a young lady with a will of her own.

The photograph of her riding a bicycle is one of the latest made. She is fond of bicycling, angling and other forms of outdoor sport, taking after her father in this respect rather than her mother. From the latter she inherits a taste for domestic occupations.

The princess is tall for her age and will be taller still, it is expected. She is not handsome or beautiful, as are her cousins, the two Connaught princesses, Patricia and Crown Princess Margaret of Sweden, but she has a fair face, light hair and eyes and is not unattractive.

ENJOYABLE TIME AT LAWN PARTY

In Aid of St. Margaret's Parish

The children's entertainment in connection with the lawn party of St. Margaret's parish, which will be held at the Casino tonight, was held this afternoon. The attendance was very large and all had a great time. The grounds were beautifully decorated for the affair and the weather conditions were "just what the doctor ordered."

Long before the announced time for the first number on the program many children and their parents gathered at the popular resort and looked the place over. At 4 o'clock a dance drill by the children, under the direction of Miss Perrin was given and it proved a grand feature. A grand list of sports was carried out in which the boys and girls of the party participated. Suitable prizes were awarded the winners.

During the entire afternoon general dancing was enjoyed.

The different tables located around the grounds, and presided over by the committees of the parishioners did a thriving business during the day. Tonight the adults will hold forth and a large attendance is anticipated.

DRIVERS PLEASED THAT WORK ON SCHOOL ST. CROSSING IS FINISHED

The many teamsters who have occasion to pass along School street are elated over the great improvement resulting from the completion of the bridge. The work on this bridge was in progress for some time and to those who passed there daily the progress seemed very slow. Now that everything is finished the cut through the street, proves a great time saver to teamsters who during its construction were obliged to take the longest way round. The bridge is one of the longest grade crossings in these parts and is an excellent piece of work. All the contractors who worked on it are greatly satisfied with the work done and they have received congratulations from all who had an opportunity to watch the erection of the bridge.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL GRANTED PETITIONS

Brief Session Was Held This Afternoon

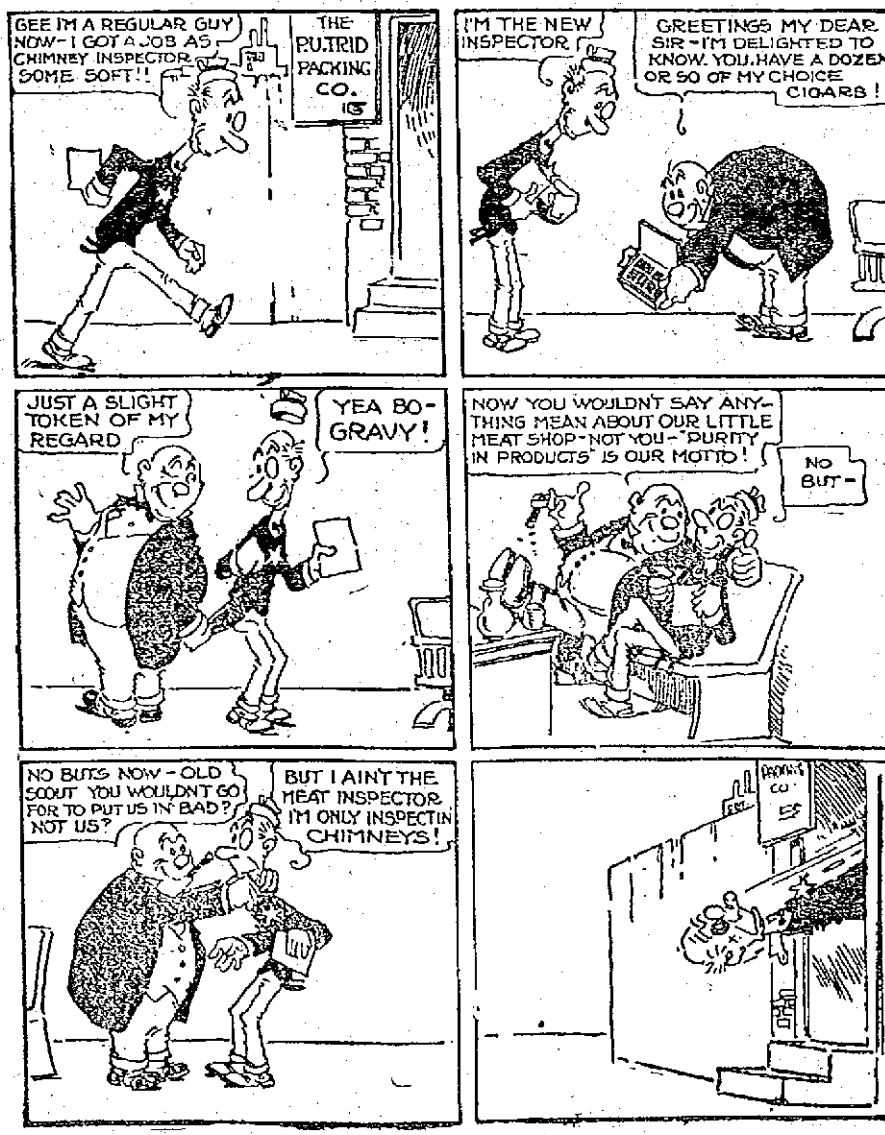

The meeting of the municipal council was held this afternoon at 2:20 o'clock with Mayor O'Donnell in the chair. All the members of the council were present with the exception of Commissioner Barrett.

The first business to come before the meeting was a number of hearings on the petitions of Hayden Pillsbury, M. D., Freeman B. Shedd and Eugene G. Russell, to keep and store gasoline. As there was no remonstrance the petitions were all granted.

The order to borrow $35,000 and appropriate the same to erect a city stable was adopted.

NAME OF PARKER FREQUENTLY HEARD

For Chairman of the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore

BALTIMORE, June 15.—Judge Alton Parker was strongly indicated today as the choice of the arrangements committee for temporary chairman of the democratic national convention.

Those members of the committee now here were agreed that the former presidential candidate was neutral in his attitude toward all candidates for presidential nomination and that he possessed all the qualifications as a presiding officer.

Democratic leaders and national committeemen laid aside their pre-convention labors today and looked toward the west for news from Chicago.

"Much depends upon what is done at the republican convention as to the course we will take in naming our ticket and building the democratic platform," said National Committeeman Wade of Iowa today.

Should the democratic convention become deadlocked friends in the Middle West of Gov. Burke of North Dakota are to put him forward for presidential honors.

ston and D. J. McKenna to keep and store gasoline, were referred to the commissioner of licenses.

The order recommending that a permit be granted to the Bay State Street Railway Co. to relocate five poles in Perkins street, was adopted. The petition of the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co. for four pole locations in Floyd street was referred to a hearing to be held on July 2. Other petitions from the same company to attach its wires to poles of the Lowell Electric Light Corp. were referred to the commissioner of public buildings, as well as that of George B. Tanner for a light at the corner of Wood avenue and Orchard street.

Additional orders recommending the granting of petitions for the same company to attach its wires on poles of other companies were also adopted. A communication from the Middlesex Women's club relative to a food fair to be held at the armory and in which the members of the club asked the approval of the council, was read and it was voted to leave the matter on the table until the council take a view of the premises. The meeting adjourned at 2:45 o'clock until this evening at which time hearings will be held on pole locations and other matters.

HOUSES WERE DESTROYED BY GOVERNMENT TROOPS

Strong Protest Made to U. S.
Consul by the Leaders of Mexican Rebels

SANTIAGO, Cuba, June 15.—Ross E. Holaday, United States consul here, received a letter today from Gen. Estenoz, the rebel leader protesting in the name of humanity against the conduct of the government troops. He says that at Las Yaguas, a suburb of El Cane, four miles to the northeast of Santiago, the government troops burned 119 houses belonging to negroes who were totally unconnected with the revolution. At the same place they killed a father and his two children who are both under ten years of age and destroyed a number of young girls. Gen. Estenoz requests the United States to send a representative to the scene of military operations when he will give a bond of the proof of his charges against the government troops.

AN ESCAPED CONVICT Scalded to Death in a Sewer

ATLANTA, Ga., June 18.—In his attempt to escape, hindered by double shackles, John Wallace, a convict, serving a term at the city stockade, was scalded to death yesterday in a sewer.

Wallace was working with the road gang, which they approached a manhole. Seeking an opportunity to get away from servitude he waited until the guard's back was turned and then dropped into the hole, and in a minute was out of sight in its windings.

Then minutes after he entered, and while the guards were standing over all manholes waiting gun in hand for him to attempt to get out, 10,000 gallons of boiling water was let loose in a raging torrent by the factory of the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills.

Hoping to rescue the convict, Guard Manders, from whom he made his escape, volunteered to enter the sewer, but the superintendent of the works told him it was useless and refused to allow the sacrifice. The convict was only a short distance from the sewer when the flood of boiling water struck him.

How Grace Benson Became Famous for the Beauty of Her Hands and Arms

Free Prescription That Can Be Prepared at Home Without Expense

Grace Benson, famous for the marvelous beauty of her hands and arms in a recent interview, says: "If I could tell every woman about the prescription that has caused all this talk about my hands and arms they could every one of them make their hands and arms just as beautiful as mine. I am glad to have the opportunity to give my receipt free to the world. It will help every woman to improve her personal appearance."

When I asked her if she would allow me to publish the prescription, she quickly answered: "Certainly, only so long as you do it." Turning to a desk, she wrote it on a slip of paper and handed it to me. Here it is: "Go to any drug store, get an empty two-ounce bottle, also a one-ounce bottle of Kelsay Compound. Pour the entire bottle of Kelsay into the two-ounce bottle, add a quarter of an ounce of witch hazel, then fill with water. Apply night and morning."

She further said: "This prescription makes the skin transparent and removes all defects, such as freckles, tan, sun spots, roughness and ruddiness. A single application works a marvelous transformation. Where low collars are worn it can be applied to the neck with equally as startling results. It is absolutely harmless, and will positively stimulate or produce a growth of hair."

STELLAR ATTRACTION OF THE YEAR

Will be Held at Milwaukee in September

Approximately $17,000 in cash prizes has been hung up by the Milwaukee Automobile Dealers' association for the four big road races, the Grand Prix, Vanderbilt, Pabst Blue Ribbon and Wisconsin Motor Challenge cup contests, in Milwaukee on Sept. 17 and 21. This amount is nearly $5000 more than that offered by the Savannah Automobile club for the double bill at Savannah last fall. The prize list does not include a secret purse which will accompany the Pabst Blue Ribbon trophy.

Entries for all races will close Saturday, Sept. 7, at midnight, 10 days before the running of the first events—the Vanderbilt and Pabst Blue Ribbon cup races, on Sept. 17.

The official entry blanks will show that the race for the Grand Prix will be a free-for-all, non-stock chassis event, without restrictions, at 450.35 miles, or 50 laps of the 9.125 mile circuit, in addition to the Automobile Club of America's gold cup, there will be awarded to the winners the sum of $6500, distributed as follows: First, $3000; second, $2900; third, $1000, and fourth, $500.

The Vanderbilt cup race will be run under the rules of the A. A. A. and will be a Class C non-stock event, for cars of from 301 to 600 cubic inches displacement, at 305.375 miles, or 35 circuits of the course. The cash prizes, four in number, aggregate $5500, as for the Grand Prix, and will be distributed in like manner.

The race for the Pabst Blue Ribbon trophy, which will be run in conjunction with the Vanderbilt, will be for Class C, non-stock cars, 231 to 300 cubic inches piston displacement, Division 3C, at 218.125 miles, or 25 circuits of the Vanderbilt course. The cash prizes will be awarded as follows: First, $1000; second, $500; third, $250, and fourth, $125. In addition the Pabst trophy will contain a purse, the amount of which will not be known until the winning driver prizes the sealed cover from the tube in the cup.

The Wisconsin Motor Challenge Trophy race will be for Class C, non-stock cars, Division 2C, 161-230 cubic inches piston displacement, at 174.5 miles, or 20 circuits of the Grand Prix course. It will be run co-incidentally with the Grand Prix. The cash prize list is the same as for the Pabst.

AUTO DEALERS BUSY The Latest News of the Trade

The automobile situation in this city—that is relative to sales—has been very freakish this year. Business was very brisk with the local dealers during the early part of the year and there was such a rush of business that it was expected that this would be a banner year, and even at that unduly it will be. Then there were several weeks of rainy weather and the sales dropped off but for one month of the rainy weather when the dealers did not expect a big business there were many people who purchased cars.

The dealers were waiting for the pleasant weather and although the week before last the weather conditions were good, business was also good. Last week the weather was ideal but there were very few sales made. The dealers are in a quandary as to the reason for the changeable actions of prospective purchasers but are still confident that there will be a rush of business during the next few weeks.

Several sales have been made during the past few weeks, among them being the sale of a Ford touring car to Rev. Mr. Harris of the Paige Street Free Baptist church.

Tom Williston of the Stanley Garage in upper Middlesex street, reports excellent business for the past weeks with many prospective purchasers on his books. Although he is giving much time to the business of repairing cars in the line of business of the Stanley he finds time to do extensive repair work and the floor of his workshop is always crowded with machines of various makes awaiting repairs. In order to reduce the number of tires he has in stock Tom will sell all the standard makes for this week at reduced prices.

WOMEN PROTEST AGAINST THE HIGH PRICE OF KOSHER BEEF

BOSTON, June 5.—More than 500 Hebrew men and women attended a mass meeting in Foresters' hall, Malden, yesterday, to protest against the high cost of kosher beef. The leader of the protest was Mrs. Annie Finkelstein, of 136 Boylston street. An organization known as the Independent Workingmen's Circle, of which there is a branch in Malden, is headed by Mrs. Finkelstein as president. She was the principal speaker at yesterday's meeting. It was necessary to hold an overflow meeting, there being more than 250 persons who could not gain admission to the hall. Mrs. Finkelstein also addressed them.

It was voted to invade Boston, Chelsea, Cambridge and Revere, there being large Jewish colonies in these places. Permanent plans were drawn up for the organization, among which was the appointment of a committee of forty persons, which will be subdivided into committees of ten each, these committees to assume the initiative in invading the above named places for the purpose of starting a boycott on the kosher meat.

Already eight of the nine butchers in Malden's Hebrew section have agreed to refuse to carry the meat. Mrs. Finkelstein is progressive in this respect and believes that the boycott will lead eventually to lower prices. More than half of the Jewish people have already decided to assist in the boycott.

GETS DIVORCE DECREE WAS GIVEN IN FAVOR OF MRS. CARTY

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—Society, which has not yet forgotten the surprise of George A. Litch's public announcement of separating from his wife, heard yesterday of another marriage difficulty in the family of the wealthy banker, Mrs. Florence H. Carty, daughter of Mr. Hulm, obtained a divorce yesterday afternoon from Andrew J. Carty, owner of rich coal lands.

Mrs. Carty was formerly the wife of Philip J. Walsh, Jr. Society had regarded the match as ideal and the married life of the couple bore out the judgment. But Mr. Walsh died about four years ago, and a little more than a year later, his widow married Mr. Carty. It is said the second marriage was a failure from the beginning and the couple soon separated.

The decree was granted in Common Pleas court. The testimony had been taken by a master and had been sealed. In the case of Mr. Hulm and his wife the separation may end in a reconciliation. Although the banker advertised six months ago that he would not be responsible for his wife's debts, Mr. Carty, it is said, the second marriage was a failure from the beginning and the couple soon separated.

Dancing tonight, Willow Dale.

LOWELL POLICE WERE EASILY DEFEATED BY LYNN POLICE

The Lowell police ball team went to Lynn this morning and played the Lynn team on the Ocean park grounds. The game was very close and exciting until the last inning, when the Lynn men got to McCarthy, who twirled for Lowell and pounded out ten runs, winning the game by the score of 17 to 7.

CHINAMAN SHOT YEE TOY WAS A HIP SING TONG MAN

NEW YORK, June 18.—Yee Toy, said to have been a "gun man" of the Hip Sing Tong, was shot last night in front of 13 Pell street. The shooting came out of a clear sky, so far as appearances of trouble were concerned. Pauline Maroney, who was a few feet away, ran up in time to see Yee Toy on the ground and Yung Hing, an On Leung man, running away.

Yung Hing was caught and identified as the shooter. Yee Toy was taken to St. Gregory's hospital and died as he reached there. He had a bullet in the abdomen, three in the chest and one in the hand. Yung Hing, who has a reputation as a bad man, was discharged by court a few days ago, for lack of evidence that he had struck a white man on the head with a revolver in Chinatown.

BADLY INJURED MAN HURT IN TROLLEY CAR AC- CIDENT IN BOSTON

BOSTON, June 18.—Coleman Sullivan was badly injured when a trolley car, operated by a green motorman, crashed into the wagon he was driving early today in South Boston. The motorman and conductor were taken to the police station and held pending an investigation.

Sullivan was rushed to the Carney hospital. An X-ray examination will be conducted to determine his injuries. District Attorney Pelletier may be asked to take action against the Boston Elevated company as a result of the dismissal of Elevated employees which is given by the union as their reason for striking.

The union heads assert that in many cases these men were told pointblank that they were discharged because of union activities. This, the strikers claim, is in violation of a state law. Strike leaders were in consultation with Attorney James H. Vahey on the matter.

WOMAN ACCUSES LAWYER OF PLOT TO SWINDLE HER

Mrs. Anderson Gave $35,000
Paintings for Real Estate—Art Dealer Involved Also

NEW YORK, June 18.—Mrs. Catherine H. Anderson of 105 Central Park West, widow of John Anderson, former president of the Commercial Telegraph and Cable company, yesterday obtained a temporary injunction from the supreme court enjoining the sale of $35,000 worth of paintings which she says were taken from her through a fraudulent scheme.

The paintings were collected by her husband, who was a man of wealth. They include pictures appraised as follows: Corot, $5000; Millet, $1500; Troyon, $5000; Zola, $3000; Rayet, $3000; Jacques, $3000; Meissonier, $3000; Innes, $3500. The pictures are said to be in a vault of the Lincoln Safe Deposit company.

The defendants in the suit are Jas. D. Waring of Orienta Point, Manaroneck, an art and picture dealer; his wife, Josephine; Gregory Gannon, a lawyer, and the safe deposit company. Mrs. Anderson demands an accounting from Waring.

Mrs. Anderson asserts that last August Waring told her he could sell her paintings, and she agreed to give him a 20 per cent commission. Later, she says, he told her he had learned that

JAIL SENTENCE FOR CRIPPLE WHO SOLD LIQUOR ILLEGALLY

PLYMOUTH, June 18.—Before Judge Joseph P. Quinn in the Plymouth County superior court yesterday, Jeremiah G. Hurley was sentenced to two years in the house of correction, and James E. Flemming to three and a half to four and a half years in state prison.

They were jointly indicted by the grand jury and later found guilty of robbery from William M. Jones, all the parties being from Brockton.

An odd case happened just before adjournment when William Fenn of Brockton, charged with exposing and keeping liquor, was brought into court by order of the district attorney and fined $100 and given a term of one month in the house of correction. Fenn is a hopeless cripple and both legs are paralyzed, besides other afflictions. He is being his second offense, Judge Quinn had no other alternative, although he said he disliked to imprison a cripple.

The case on trial at adjournment of court was that of Thos. J. Dwyer of Brockton, indicted with Patrick Barry for burning their store at Brockton, March 10, 1912. The men were partners in the grocery business, and when the fire broke out both were discovered in the building. Dwyer was arrested, but Barry escaped the officers and has never been apprehended.

COUPLE KILLED WEALTHY MAN AND BRIDE WERE ON HONEYMOON

ERIE, Pa., June 8.—T. A. Snider, a millionaire manufacturer of Cincinnati, O., and his wife, who were on their honeymoon, were instantly killed yesterday when their automobile was struck by a fast train at a crossing of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad at Harbor Creek, near here. Miss Ethel Stanton, a daughter of Mr. Snider, was seriously hurt, while the chauffeur, Harold Leet, escaped with minor injuries.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Snider were terribly mutilated.

The accident yesterday follows one that occurred here Sunday, when Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chene of Titusville, Pa., who were spending their honeymoon in Erie, were drowned in the bay when their boat capsized.

THE WINNING TEAM—THE TWO BLS

COL. ROOSEVELT FLAYS TAFT AND SOUNDS THE BATTLE CRY THOUSANDS CHEER EX-PRESIDENT

CHICAGO, June 18.—On the eve of the republican national convention Col. Roosevelt last night disclosed the line of attack which he will make. He laid down two principles. He said that the delegates whose selection he contests must not vote in the organization of the convention or upon the settlement of the contest, and made it clear that he would resist it. He declared that no action of the convention based upon the votes of these "fraudulent delegates" would be binding upon the republican party.

It was at the Roosevelt rally in the Auditorium that the ex-president made his challenge. He was facing a cheering throng which jammed the huge building as tightly as the fire marshal would permit.

Reaching far to the rear, to the last line of seats, and to the top of the upper balcony were solid rows of men and women delegates from every part of the country. Roosevelt leaders and a host of privates in the Roosevelt army.

They gave the ex-president a mighty welcome. Col. Roosevelt made a fighting speech. His hearers were in fighting mood. They cheered him on as he denounced his opponents and shouted to him: "Go at 'em, Teddy!" "Knock out the steam roller!" "Hit 'em, again!"

Long before Roosevelt reached the Auditorium every seat was taken. Outside the building were thousands who were unable to gain admission. Two hundred policemen held them back.

Given Four-Minute Ovation
Senator Borah made a speech while the crowd was waiting for Col. Roosevelt. His remarks were brought to an untimely end when the people leaped to their feet with a yell. The colonel had come.

It was nearly four minutes later when the uproarious welcome subsided. The colonel stood on the platform, waved his hands and smiled. Col. Roosevelt was constantly interrupted during his speech with storms of applause. He frequently departed from his prepared notes for an extemporaneous thrust which brought the people to their feet, shouting and waving the flag, which were handed to each person on entering the hall.

"I made my fight square and fair in the open and I won," he said. "I don't intend that my opponents shall cheat me out of it."

Defines National Committee
The colonel gave a new definition of the national committee. "The national committee!" he exclaimed. "Who are they? About 50 plain men with the ratio of honesty ranging from about 14 to 20 and the remaining 30 sure-thing men."

Col. Roosevelt began to call the roll of some of his most prominent opponents. At the first he mentioned a groan came from the crowd. With the next name the groan became a roar.

To preserve peace the colonel gave up his roll-call. He said that his chief opponents on the national committee were men who had been repudiated in their own states.

Declares War Amid Cheers
"It is bad enough," he complained, "to have the victory stolen by the bosses that are living, but it is an outrage to have it stolen by bosses that are among the unbred dead."

When Col. Roosevelt said that any action of the convention, if brought about by the votes of delegates fraudulently seated, would not be binding upon the party, there came the wildest outburst of applause of the evening.

The crowd leaped up with a shout and refused to be quieted despite the colonel's attempt to continue.

"If they ask for the sword," said he, "when at last he could make himself heard, 'they shall have it!'"

Col. Roosevelt's Speech
Col. Roosevelt spoke in part as follows:

My Friends and Fellow Citizens:
I address you as my fellow republicans, but I also and primarily address you as fellow Americans, fellow-citizens, for this has now become much more than an ordinary party fight. The issue is both simpler and larger than that involved in the personality of any man, or than that involved in any factional or in any ordinary party contest. We are standing for the great fundamental rights upon which all successful free government must be based. We are standing for elementary decency in politics. We are fighting for honesty against naked robbery; and where robbery is concerned the all-important question is not the identity of the man robbed, but the crime itself.

As far as Mr. Taft and I are personally concerned it little matters what the fate of either may be. But with Mr. Taft's acquiescence or by his direction, and in his interest, his followers have raised an issue which is all important to this country. It is not a partisan issue; it is more than a political issue; it is a great moral issue. If we condone political theft, if we do not resent the kinds of wrong and injustice that injuriously affect the whole nation, not merely our democratic form of government but our civilization itself can not endure. If the methods adopted by the national committee are approved by the convention which is about to assemble, a great crime will have been committed. This triumph of such proceedings at the moment would mean the wreck of the republican party; and if such proceedings become habitual, it would mean the wreck of popular government. The action of the Taft leaders in the national committee, taken with the active aid of Mr. Taft's private secretary and of one of Mr. Taft's cabinet officers, are monstrous and they should be indignantly condemned by the moral sentiment of the whole country.

Calls it a Crime
Tonight we come together to protest against a crime which strikes straight at the heart of every principle of political decency and honesty, a crime which represents treason to the people, and the usurpation of the sovereignty of the people by irresponsible political bosses, inspired by the sinister influences of moneyed privilege. We here in this hall are engaged not only in a fight for the rights of every decent republican, we are engaged in a fight for the rights of every decent American whatsoever his party may be. And, Oh, my friends, for one thing at least, we should be profoundly grateful. We are more fortunate than our fathers in that there is no slightest tinge of sectionalism in the fight we are now waging. The principles for which we stand are as vital for the south as for the north, for the east as for the west. We make our appeal to all honest, far-sighted and patriotic Americans, no matter where they may dwell.

Abandoned People's Cause
When in February last I made up my mind that it was my duty to enter this fight, it was after long and careful deliberation. I had become convinced that Mr. Taft had definitely and completely abandoned the cause of the people and had surrendered himself wholly to the biddings of the professional political bosses and of the great privileged interests standing behind them. I had also become convinced that unless I did make the fight it could not be made at all, and that Mr. Taft's nomination would come to him without serious opposition. The event has justified both my beliefs. I earnestly ask our fellow-progressives who have supported other candidates to remember that one of the cardinal principles of the doctrines which we hold in common is our duty normally, loyally and in good faith to abide by the well thought out and honestly expressed action of a majority. The overwhelming majority of the republican progressives have declared for me. It has become clear beyond the shadow of a doubt that if I had not made the progressive fight it would have completely broken down, and there would have been no substantial opposition to the forces of reaction and political crookedness. Let those progressives who stand for principle and who are concerned not only as a means of any particular man only as a means of securing the triumph of principle, ponder these facts and refrain in this crisis from playing into the hands of our enemies.

In Hands of Bosses
Mr. Taft at first denied that he represented the bosses. His denial was of little consequence for his deeds belied his words. But I doubt if at present he would venture to repeat the denial. As it has become constantly more and more evident that the people are against him, he has more and more undisguisedly thrown himself into the arms of the bosses. Here in Chicago at this moment he has never had one chance of success save what was given him by the actions of Messrs. Crane, Barnes, Brookner, Penrose, Murphy, Guggenheim, Mulvane, Swoot, New and their associates in cheating the people out of their rights. It was beaten so overwhelmingly by the people themselves in the states where primaries were held, that in the last state in which he spoke, in New Jersey, he permitted himself to be betrayed into the frank admission that he expected to be nominated because he believed the national committee would stand by him. One member of his own cabinet, representing a state that has just repudiated him, has been working hand in glove with the other Taft members of the national committee, under the lead of Mr. Crane of Massachusetts, Mr. Penrose of Pennsylvania, of Mr. Mulvane of Kansas, and Mr. Murphy of New Jersey and Mr. Scott of West Virginia—all of whom have just been repudiated by their own states—to steal from the people the victory which the people have won. Last February it was evident that Mr. Taft was the accepted representative of the bosses, of the men who uphold the combination of crooked politics and crooked business which has been the chief source not only of our political but of our social and industrial corruption. It has now, also, become evident that Mr. Taft is willing to acquiesce in and to condone and to accept the fruits of any course of action on which these men embark, even though such action represent treason, as well as destruction, to the republican party to which the nominal belong, and also treason to the cause of the American people as a whole.

We who in this contest are fighting for the rights of the plain people, we who are fighting for the right of the people to rule themselves need offer no better proof of the fact that we are fighting for all citizens, no matter what their politics, than that which are afforded by the action of that portion of the press which is controlled by privilege, by the great special interests in business. Newspapers of this type are found in every part of the country in San Francisco, in Cincinnati, in Chicago and St. Louis, in Boston and Philadelphia. But they are strongest in New York. Some of these newspapers are nominally democratic, some nominally republican, some nominally independent. But in reality they are true only to the real or fancied interests of the great capitalist class by certain of whose members they are controlled. Sometimes the interests of this capitalist class are identical with those of the country as a whole and in that case these papers serve the interests of the commonwealth. Sometimes the interests of the capitalist class are against the interests of the people as a whole and in that case these papers are hostile to the interests of the commonwealth. But neither their acting favorably to nor their acting adversely to the interests of the commonwealth is anything more than an incident to their support of the interests to which they are bound. The great and far-reaching evil of their action is that they choke and foul the only channels of information open to so many honest and well-meaning citizens. The most prominent representatives of these papers in New York and Massachusetts supported Mr. Parker against me in 1904. Mr. Parker was a democrat, but he was entirely satisfactory to these masters and for the time being they ardently did all they could to overthrow the republican party and to elect a democratic president. But when I began to be seriously talked about for the republican nomination this year, these papers one and all turned republican to the extent of becoming my furious opponents and the furious champions of Mr. Taft. There is an element of pure comedy in reading in these papers continual lamentations about the likelihood of my candidacy breaking up the republican party. They themselves did all they could to beat the republican party when they thought they could elect Mr. Parker. Now these papers would eagerly champion the republican party if every man should have, the qualities of generosity and unselfishness, of fearless honesty and high courage. "We who war against privilege pay heed to no outworn system of philosophy. We demand of leaders today understanding of and sympathies with the living and the vital needs of those in the community whose needs are greatest. We are against privilege in every form. We believe in striking down every bulwark of privilege. Above all we are against the evil alliance of special privilege in business with special business in politics. We believe in giving the people a free hand to work in efficient fashion for true justice. To the big man and to the little man, in all the relations of life, we pledge justice and fair dealing. "A period of changes is upon us. Our opponents, the men of reaction, ask us to stand still, but we could not stand still if we would. We must either go forward or go backward. Never was the need more imperative than now for men of vision who are also men of action. Disaster is ahead of us if we trust to the leadership of men whose souls are scared and whose eyes are blinded, men of cold heart and narrow mind, who believe we can find safety in dull timidity and inaction."

FINE PROGRAM
GIVEN BY YOUNGER GIRLS OF THE HIGHLANDS
Some of the younger girls of the Highlands gave an enjoyable entertainment Saturday afternoon in the ball-room of the Coram house on Marlborough street for the benefit of country week. A little play, "Fanny's May Party" was given and there were also refreshment booths. Those who took part in this entertainment were as follows: Misses Katherine and Elizabeth Goodell, Louise Harrigan, Dorothy and Eleanor Burroughs, Mary and Ellen McEvoy, Margaret Weed, Marie and Margaret Reynolds, Mildred McGregor, Emily and Arline Pratt, Gladys Sloome, Marion Harkins, Ruth and Norma McKenzie, Dorothy Whitley, Marion Gibson and Nancy Hawley. They were assisted by Mrs. William Work, the present occupant of the Coram estate.

fathers in that there is no slightest tinge of sectionalism in the fight we are now waging. The principles for which we stand are as vital for the south as for the north, for the east as for the west. We make our appeal to all honest, far-sighted and patriotic Americans, no matter where they may dwell.
Abandoned People's Cause
When in February last I made up my mind that it was my duty to enter this fight, it was after long and careful deliberation. I had become convinced that Mr. Taft had definitely and completely abandoned the cause of the people and had surrendered himself wholly to the biddings of the professional political bosses and of the great privileged interests standing behind them. I had also become convinced that unless I did make the fight it could not be made at all, and that Mr. Taft's nomination would come to him without serious opposition. The event has justified both my beliefs. I earnestly ask our fellow-progressives who have supported other candidates to remember that one of the cardinal principles of the doctrines which we hold in common is our duty normally, loyally and in good faith to abide by the well thought out and honestly expressed action of a majority. The overwhelming majority of the republican progressives have declared for me. It has become clear beyond the shadow of a doubt that if I had not made the progressive fight it would have completely broken down, and there would have been no substantial opposition to the forces of reaction and political crookedness. MAYBOHM PITCHED GREAT GAME

And Lowell Won 4 to 2—McGammwell Shines at Bat

After losing to Lynn yesterday morning by a score of 7 to 1 the home team came back to this city with the determination of beating Fall River at Spalding park in the afternoon. Owing to the losses during the past few weeks the batting order of the home team was greatly changed, and the shift proved advantageous. Jake as clean up man, was very weak, but McGammwell, who batted fourth yesterday, was the star pitcher of the game, getting three hits out of as many times at bat.

Maybom pitched for Lowell, and was in good form. Monahan, behind the bat did good work, and in fact the entire team played different ball—the kind that wins pennants—and the fans certainly showed their appreciation of their fine work.

The game in detail:

First Inning

There was a regular batting carnival in the first inning and when the smoke of the battle had cleared away it was found that Lowell had scored three runs while the visitors had made but two tallies.

Walsh started off with a fly to McGammwell and Merrill followed with a base on balls. Hickman singled. Rose then went out on a fly to Clemens. Weaver knocked out a three bagger and Merrill and Hickman scored. De Groff was third out on a fly to Clemens.

In the latter half of the inning Clemens sent the ball to left field for a two bagger and Miller followed with a single. DeGroff drew a free pass filling the bases. McGammwell singled and Clemens and Miller scored. Magee hit to Hickman and was out at first. Boutelles flew to Weaver and DeGroff scored. Loneragan hit to Demarre and was out at first.

Score—Lowell 3, Fall River 2.

Second Inning

Neither side scored in the second inning. Yell hit a grounder to McGammwell and was out. Wilson went out to Miller to first and Walsh was third out on a fly to Loneragan.

In Lowell's half Monahan flied to Wheeler and Maybom hit to Hickman and was out at first. Clemens drew a base on balls and stole second, but Miller closed the inning by flying to Demarre.

Score—Lowell 3, Fall River 2.

Third Inning

In the third inning Merrill flied to Monahan and Hickman and Rose flied to Magee.

De Groff struck out and McGammwell followed with a two-bagger to left. Magee hit to Demarre and was out at first and Boutelles hit to Hickman and was also out at first.

Score—Lowell 4, Fall River 2.

Fourth Inning

Lowell scored another run in the fourth inning. Wheeler singled to left. Demarre hit to Maybom, who threw to Loneragan, getting Weaver, and the ball was then sent to first for a double play. Yell closed the first half by rolling out, Miller to first.

In the latter half of the inning Loneragan sent the ball into the right garden for three bases. Monahan singled and was thrown out while trying to steal second. Maybom singled and Loneragan scored. Clemens singled to right field and stole second but he died there, for Miller hit to Demarre and was out at first and the ball was sent home in time to get Maybom, who tried to come on the putout.

Score: Lowell 4, Fall River 2.

Fifth Inning

Two goose eggs were registered in the fifth inning. Wheeler hit to Miller and died at first and Wilson hit to Boutelles and was out at first. Walsh was the third man out on a grounder to McGammwell.

DeGroff hit to Demarre and was out at first, but McGammwell drew a base on balls. Magee flied to Weaver and later McGammwell tried to steal and was caught in the act.

Score: Lowell 4, Fall River 2.

Sixth Inning

In the sixth inning Merrill walked to first after having four balls called on him. He went to second on Hickman's sacrifice. Rose flied to Magee and Weaver followed with a fly to De Groff.

In the latter half of the inning Boutelles flied to Weaver. Loneragan hit to Demarre who fumbled and the runner was safe at first. Monahan hit to Demarre and was out at first.

proved a great thing for the team. McGammwell is certainly in the right position now, as he is a real clean-up kid.

Loneragan played a fast game, and is steadily improving at the bat. A wise move to hold him.

Joe Monahan is catching well at present and now Lowell is well protected behind the bat. Both catchers are also hitting the ball in fine style.

Lavigne is the best batting catcher in the league.

That was a great stop of McGammwell in the ninth inning. With one out Weaver hit in front of the plate. Monahan had to hustle to get the ball and he turned quickly and shot the pill high to first. Mac pumped and pulled it down with the gloved hand and retired the runner. He was given a great hand.

Rube Marquard defeated Marty O'Toole in a pitched duel yesterday, and incidentally the Cubs equalled the record of consecutive victories. At that Pittsburgh got more hits than the Giants, but the New Yorkers got the breaks.

The Boston Red Sox won again from Chicago and with "Big Ed" Walsh working. The Red Sox boys now have a good lead on Washington, which is now occupying the second rung on the ladder.

Lynn here today, and Blum will pitch. Lawrence will come here on Saturday and weather permitting there will be a great crowd on hand.

Umpire Bannan made his first appearance of the present season at the park yesterday and his work was satisfactory to all.

Bowcock has been very unfortunate in the matter of injuries. Last year while playing against Lynn, he was struck by a pitched ball with such force that he remained in a hospital for a week. He is suffering now from concussion of the brain, and it will be some time before he is able to play ball. When he does return to the game he won't bat with his old-time confidence.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The reorganized Manhattan team will play the Graniteville team at Forge Village Saturday. The team has been greatly strengthened and is now one of the best in the city.

OUTFOUGHT TOM KENNEDY IN

10-ROUND BOUT

NEW YORK, June 18.—Jim Stewart, the New York heavyweight, outfoight Tom Kennedy, also of this city, in a 10-round contest at Madison Square Garden last night. The bout was fairly even until the final rounds, when Stewart was the faster.

Stewart Kennedy of Lawrence, Mass., outboxed Joe Daw of this city, the referee stopping the bout in the sixth round. The boys were featherweights.

In the second round of the contest between Frank McKay, a Canadian heavyweights, and Dutch Zimmer of Brooklyn the latter hurt his arm in falling to the floor, compelling him to quit.

YALE VS. HARVARD

FIRST GAME OF SERIES PLAYED

THIS AFTERNOON

NEW HAVEN, June 18.—Yale plays Harvard in the first game of its annual baseball series at Yale field this afternoon. The contest is an interesting one, as the two teams are evenly matched. Every indication was that the game would be a great one. Yale's management gathered over 12,000 spectators and there was clearing for more. The game, preceded by a baseball game of the class with their Harvard team, began at 3 o'clock. Yale won in the contest, defeating Harvard by a score of two to one. The game was a fine one, and the college games will upon the occasion as a hit better.

the National League Sensation

Heinie Zimmerman, the Chicago Cubs infielder, is the sensation of the National league this season. His brilliant all around work has had much to do with keeping the team well up in the race. In forty-four games played he has made seventy-one hits, ten two baggers, eight triples and nine homers. He leads the National league sluggers with a percentage of .415. Besides walling the ball hard, Heinie is playing a grand fielding game and running the bases well.

BALL PLAYERS

SAID TO BE PLAYING UNDER ASSUMED NAMES

NEW YORK, June 18.—Officials of both the National and American leagues have begun an investigation of charges that members of the New York and Brooklyn teams have been playing Sunday ball here in semi-professional teams under assumed names. It is alleged that from one hundred to two hundred and fifty dollars is regularly paid to big team stars for this service by semi-professional teams here and in suburban towns.

On several occasions it is said, star pitchers on the pay rolls of the local major league clubs have worked on Sundays for as much as $250, only to fall utterly when called upon to enter the box the next day by their regular employers.

The first move, it is expected, will be a sweeping order prohibiting players under contract to the big clubs from accepting offers from semi-professional managers.

THE BIG HIGH SCHOOL GAME

Lowell and Lawrence

Will Play Here Next

Wednesday

The ball game between the Lowell and Lawrence high school teams will be played in this city on Wednesday afternoon. This will be the first time that the schools will oppose each other in a contest of any kind since the resumption of relations a short time ago. The rivalry between the Lowell and Lawrence teams has always been very keen and it is expected that the game will be one of the best of the season. It is called by the followers of both schools "the big game" and each team will present its strongest lineup in an endeavor to capture the victory.

The Lowell team has played great ball in the last few games and Capt. Cawley is confident that his team will come out on the long end. The down river boys are also very confident of taking home the bacon and will come to Lowell with a large crowd of rooters to cheer them on to victory.

The Lowell team will also have a large number on hand, and there is sure to be some excitement at the game. Charlie Sturtevant, the young twirler who made his first appearance on the mound this season will pitch for the Lowell boys and as he has done fine work during the season, he feels that he will be on deck to fool the Lawrence slickers with his fast shoot.

MORRISON PLEADS GUILTY

OF BREAKING AND ENTERING

He Was Captured by Patrolmen

Patrick and Michael Connolly

After He Made Break

Thomas Morrison, an elderly man of respectable appearance, but a self-confessed crook, who has served several terms in the state prison in this state and Rhode Island, who broke into the residence of William E. Hall, treasurer of the Shaw Stocking Co., at the corner of Wilder and Princeton streets, during the early part of last week and was subsequently captured in Lincoln square by Patrolmen Patrick and Michael Connolly early last Tuesday morning, was brought before the police court this morning and after changing his plea from that of not guilty to guilty, Judge John J. Pickman found probable cause of guilt and held the man under $700 bonds for his appearance before the grand jury.

According to the police, Morrison, whatever his true name is, he having traveled under various aliases, is a bad man and in all probability the police of other cities are looking for him.

When the man was arraigned in police court last Tuesday morning he was charged with breaking and entering the residence of Mr. Shaw in the night time and the larceny therefrom of 18 spoons, each of the value of $2; 11 forks, each of the value of $2; one watch valued at $2.50; a pair of glasses valued at $3; a pair of scissors valued at 75 cents; a coat worth $10, and an umbrella worth 50 cents.

As the man was passing through Lincoln square early last Tuesday morning the attention of Patrolman Patrick Connolly was attracted to him. There were many people going along the state at the time presumably with the intention of seeing the circus being unloaded from the cars, but the actions of Morrison caused the patrolman to question him. While the man was being questioned, Patrolman Michael Connolly, a brother of the other officer, appeared on the scene and the man was put through a rigid cross-examination. His answers were very unsatisfactory and it was decided to send the man to the police station as a suspicious character.

Upon arriving at the police station he was searched and it was found that he had considerable silverware on his person. He refused to state where he secured the articles and the only information that he would give was that his name was Morrison and he was a stranger in the city and was going to join the circus.

He was booked as a suspicious person and a charge of larceny was also preferred against him.

Later in the morning the police learned that the residence of Mr. Hall had been broken into and when Mr. Hall came to the police station he identified the various articles as having been in his house the night before.

In police court he was arraigned on a complaint charging him with breaking and entering and larceny and the government asked for a continuance in order to learn something more about the man if possible.

As a result it was found that about ten years ago he was arrested in Providence and gave the name of James Boston and after being found guilty of larceny was committed to the jail at Cranston, R. I. for 11 months and also to pay the costs of the court. Being unable to pay the costs of court he had to serve an additional four months.

In 1899 he was arrested for breaking and entering and larceny in Cambridge under the name of William Carney, but it was later learned that he had previously given the name of Joseph Sheridan and after being found guilty was sentenced to the state prison for three years.

In 1893 he was arrested in Plymouth county on a charge of breaking and entering and larceny and gave the name of Wm. Carney and after being found guilty was sentenced to four and one-half years in state prison.

This morning in court the man entered a plea of guilty and after probable cause had been found he was held for the grand jury.

As a result of the capture Mayor O'Donnell, who is the head of the police department yesterday sent a communication to Supt. Redmond Welch giving the two patrolmen two additional days of vacation at whatever time it would not interfere with the working of the department. At the end call last night both men were commended for their alertness and clever capture.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Continued

STRONG GUARD

POLICEMEN AT EVERY CORNER, DOOR AND AISLE OF HALL.
CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, June 18.—Police men at every corner, at every door and in every aisle were the distinguishing feature of the scene at the Coliseum in the early hours before the doors were opened to ticket-holders.

The nervous tension due to general expectation of tumultuous scenes "from the drop of the hat" at the opening of the republican convention was very apparent on all sides. The police were as nervous as anybody else. It was difficult even for people with proper tickets, including newspapermen, to get into the hall. Assistant sergeants at arms, doorkeepers, ushers and other subordinate officials were so keenly alive to the possibilities that their hands trembled as they took tickets and others showed people to their seats with furtive glances about them, as if there was something explosive just under their feet.

Along the front row, between the delegate seats and the platform, a solid row of uniformed police as early as 8:30 a. m. sat waiting for nobody knew what.

Least touches by the carpenters mingled with an edginess of atmosphere and a buzz of conversation, forerunners of the heavier hammering promised when the convention began.

Five minutes later a thin procession of men in plain clothes came in at one of the entrances. Assistant sergeants-at-arms and the police pointed upon them as if they were a hostile army. William F. Stone, sergeant-at-arms, had his assistants quickly ordered out of the aisles and seats.

The soft clink of the sounders of the telegraph operators began to be audible near the platform about ten o'clock, the press platform, with its upward of 400 seats, was filling up; the convention hall "story" of the momentous republican convention of 1912 was streaming out to the newspapers of the civilized world.

TAFT'S PICTURE

MISSING FOR FIRST TIME IN HISTORY OF CONVENTIONS

CHICAGO, June 18, Convention Hall.—For the first time in the history of republican national conventions no picture of the president hangs in the Coliseum, where today 1078 delegates from the states and territories of the United States met to name a candidate for president and vice president and to formulate a party platform.

Rough ironwork, arching overhead, is hidden beneath red, white and blue bunting and the galleries are marked by lines of mountain laurel draped except over the main entrance, where a velvet rug of purple mark the box of Chairman Frederick Upham of the local committee on arrangements and his Chicago aides.

The chairman's table, bearing a brass plate inscribed to inform all that the table was occupied by the chairman four years ago when William Howard Taft was nominated, stands about a third of the way from the south end of the rectangular hall, on a dais. Back of it are the seats of the national committee and the space for the "workers" and those who helped to finance the gathering. At its side are grouped 500 seats for newspapermen, where every word may be heard distinctly and ticked away to 50,000,000 Americans and many times more persons of other lands who will be awaiting the message of the men at the keys. In a basement, in addition, the newspapermen have great spacious rooms where a hundred telegraph operators and reporters may work for each association or paper and adjoining 200 operators of the telegraph companies attended by 500 messenger boys will be ready to add to the news reports or convey other information abroad.

EARLY ARRIVAL

ASSOCIATE PARLIAMENTARIAN WAS ON TIME

CHICAGO, June 18.—J. Lamson of Ohio, the veteran reading clerk of the national house of representatives and associate parliamentarian for the convention was at his place by the speaker's table an hour and a half before the time for opening business. Beside him was a stack of books on parliamentary law.

Long before the noon hour, the two official stenographers were in front of the platform familiarizing themselves with the position of delegates. Milton Hutchinson of the United States senate and Fred Ireland, dean of the reporters force in the house of representatives, were the two men trained by long experience to depend upon to furnish the verbatim report of the great convention's work.

FIRST APPLAUSE

GREETED THE ARRIVAL OF VICE PRESIDENT FAIRBANKS

CONVENTION HALL, June 18.—The first real applause came at 11:30 for former Vice President Fairbanks, who entered with former Senator Hemanway of former Rep. James E. Watson of Indiana.

Watson was chosen last night as Taft floor leader. He entered the place for the Indiana delegation, stopping to shake hands with Senator Guggenheim of Colorado. The cheering followed him all the way to the last seat in the Indiana section; Watson and others made him take the front of Fairbanks' new seat made his one of the most commanding positions in the hall, directly in front of the runway extending from the platform. Kenneth Roosevelt had a hard time to find a seat. He got caught in the crowd between Idaho and Maine. Col. New and Mr. Fairbanks immediately got together in conference on the floor.

California came in at 11:32. The two women in the delegation were roundly applauded.

BATTLE LINES

ON BOTH SIDES APPARENTLY HOLDING FIRM

CHICAGO, June 18.—Waiting Taft and Roosevelt forces gathered at the Coliseum today for the opening of the 15th republican national convention with battle lines on both sides apparently holding firm and with leaders and delegates predicting that the session would mark an epoch in the annals of American politics.

Rarely have the principals in a national political convention got under greater stress of feeling than that which prevailed today. The atmosphere was electric with bitterness and personal animosity.

Thousands of people who were unable to obtain seats at the convention thronged lobbies and the immediate vicinity of the Coliseum with the idea that some sensation might develop in the big hall at any moment. Many political veterans said it was the worst crush of humanity in their convention experiences.

Taft's Plans

President Taft's managers concluded their plans for the fight on the floor of the convention on the assumption that the temporary roll as prepared by the national committee would show a Taft majority by a small margin. Also they assumed that the temporary roll of the committee would become the temporary roll of the convention.

Col. Roosevelt and his advisers, evidently familiar with the Taft figures, evolved an eleventh hour scheme for reducing this small Taft majority by means of an arrangement to eliminate from the poll on temporary organization those votes which are challenged by Col. Roosevelt.

This scheme, favored by the Illinois delegation and rallied at a meeting of the Roosevelt delegates this morning was embodied in the following resolution which was addressed to the body of the convention:

"Resolved, that no election of temporary or other officers of this convention or resolution or other proceeding shall be taken as the act of the convention or have any effect unless it shall receive on a roll call the affirmative votes of 540 delegates whose seats are uncontested. And this resolution shall govern and be in force during the temporary organization of this convention and until the permanent organization thereof shall have been effected."

Roosevelt Men Active

Every possible effort was made by the Roosevelt managers to have the Taft leaders agree to abide by this proposal. Illinois friends of Congressman McKinley, President Taft's campaign manager, sought to have him agree to the plan. Gov. Deane, Lawrence Y. Sherman, State Senator Logan Hay of Springfield and Thomas Healy of Chicago were among those who threw their personal influence into the balance in attempts to have Mr. McKinley accept the arrangement. Taft leaders pointed out that the plan was in direct opposition to the rules governing the national committee and long established procedure in the temporary organization of republican conventions. The proposed innovation met with little encouragement at the hands of a majority of the members of the national committee. The more moderate members of the Roosevelt organization counseled against the resolution. They declared that attempts to secure its adoption would precipitate a decisive fight at once. They said that they did not believe revolutionary proceedings in connection with the temporary organization of a convention could be justified; that the temporary organization is not the convention but merely the gateway.

In this connection a hard fight of protest was urged on every point with the idea of preparing a case for presentation to the country in conjunction with whatever line of action is found feasible at a stage further along.

GOV. McGOVERN

THE ROOSEVELT CANDIDATE FOR TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN

CHICAGO, June 18.—Senator Borah announced an hour before the convention assembled that Gov. McGovern of Wisconsin and not himself would be the Roosevelt candidate for temporary chairman. This decision was reached at a conference which Col. Roosevelt had with his leaders before they left for the Coliseum.

LA FOLLETTE MEN

COMPLETED THEIR PLATFORM LAST NIGHT

CHICAGO, June 18.—The La Follette platform was completed last night and is being carefully guarded. The La Follette managers are fearful that features of the document might be stolen by opposing platform builders if the contents were made known before the platforms of Roosevelt and President Taft are public property. The platform was prepared by Prof. C. F. McCarthy, head of the Wisconsin reference library, Prof. John R. Commons of the University of Wisconsin, and Senator Walter Owens.

500 POLICEMEN

TO BE ON DUTY AT REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 18.—A detail of five hundred policemen were given final instructions by Assistant Chief Schuetler last night regarding their duties for the convention. Among other things the men were told:

"You shall allow no one to pass your line or to enter the Coliseum unless he has the official ticket. No member of the department must attempt to obtain admission for his friends or relatives unless they have tickets and no one of you must enter the hall unless your are detailed to do so.

"I want to impress upon you that no one is allowed to smoke in this building or to enter carrying a lighted pipe, cigar or cigarette."

Detectives from Chicago and other cities were assigned to go through the crowds in search for pickpockets. Dozens of known thieves are already locked up in city police stations and the number is hourly being added to by the force of 100 or more plain clothes men.

150,000 VISITORS

CROWD INTO CHICAGO FOR THE CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 18.—The number of visitors to Chicago for the convention was estimated last night to be well above 150,000. Every hotel in the downtown district was crowded to its capacity and large crowds were directed to outlying hostilities. Early today with not more than ten exceptions the full list of delegates and alternates had been accounted for.

The various state delegations accompanying friends filled the hotel corridors and these with the throngs of sightseers crowded the hotel corridors and street corners long after midnight. Everywhere there was an air of excitement and expectancy over the first day's proceedings and the general opinion prevailed that the stage was set for the most interesting convention of the kind within the memory of most of those who had come to attend it.

Roosevelt would get the nomination, the betting on the two big candidates stood at about even money.

La Follette, Cummins and other dark horses are quoted at anywhere from 10 to 20 to 1. Odds of 10 to 7 have been nominated on the third ballot.

The first big bet of the day was recorded in the auditorium hotel, when an Arizona ranch owner bet $20,000 that President Taft would receive the nomination. The takers represented a body of Pennsylvania men.

Robert E. Barnes of San Francisco, who arrived here today with the California delegation, declared he had $100,000 to bet on Roosevelt, and when that was gone, could get a like amount. He is stopping at the Auditorium hotel.

Jim O'Leary, veteran local gambler, is said to have received more than $100,000 to bet on the result. Most of which is already gone. Roosevelt money is said to be the bulk of this sum.

Smaller and unrecorded bets, it is said, will bring the amount wagered well past the quarter million mark.

Odds of 10 to 1 that 10 delegates who would vote for Roosevelt could not be named in the New York delegation was offered by a congressman from that state, and went unbet.

While the New York delegation was en route to Chicago one of the few Roosevelt supporters on the train boasted that there would be a big rush from Taft when the convention met. "I will bet $50 to $50 that you can't name 10 delegates out of the entire delegation that will vote for Roosevelt," shouted the congressman. "May I write out the list and inclose it in an envelope?" asked the Roosevelt supporter who was a member of the legislature.

"Yes, you certainly can, if you will also inclose the $50 and seal both up together," replied the New York congressman.

While many other delegates, including other congressmen, looked on and waited the result, the Roosevelt supporter withdrew his proposition and the bet went unbet.

There were nearly 100 on the train including the alternates. The New York delegation opened its headquarters in the Auditorium hotel in a large suite just opposite the rooms of Theodore Roosevelt in the presidential suite at the congress hotel.

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS

TO OPPOSE EFFORTS OF WOMEN WHO WANT TO VOTE

CHICAGO, June 18.—Another interesting battle loomed up in the national convention program today when it was announced that the anti-suffragist forces would oppose the efforts of women who seek the right to vote to have a suffrage plank placed in the national republican platform. Led by Mrs. Arthur Dodge, a delegation representing the New York Anti-Suffrage society was expected in Chicago today to aid in the fight.

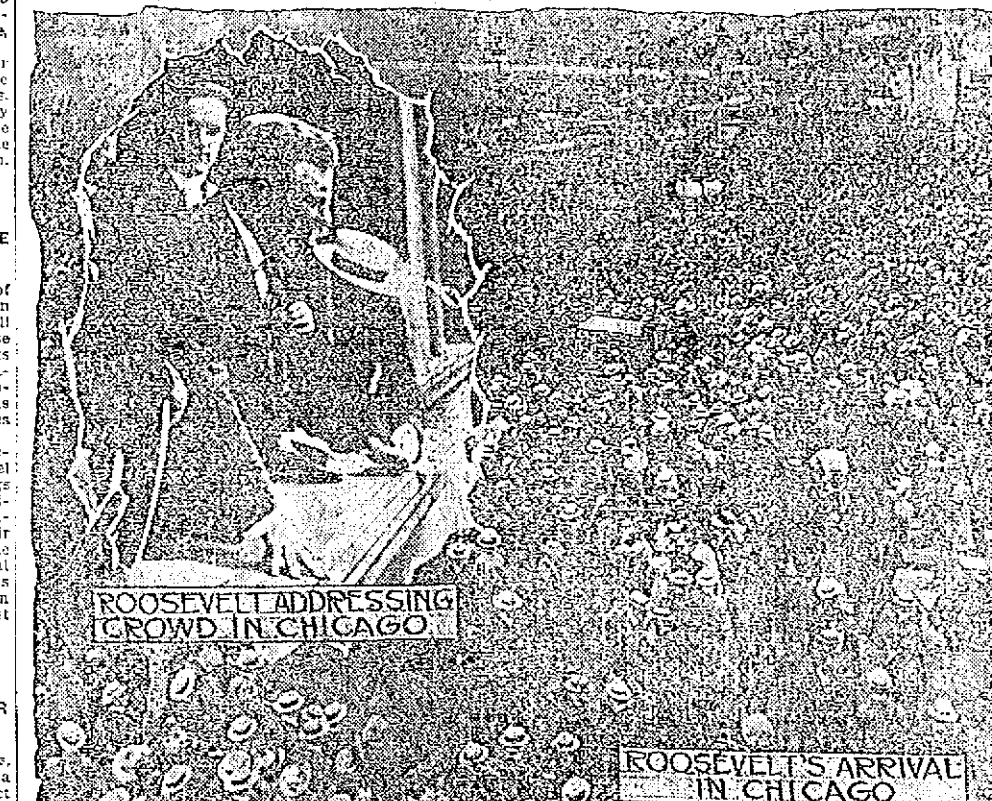

Men of Widely Different Types Met in Chicago in the Preconvention Struggle

CHICAGO, June 18.—John Hays Hammond, millikanite mining expert, whose range of activities has covered the civilized world, is here in an official capacity, but he is extremely active just the same. He has been working in the interest of the renomination of President Taft. Governor Stubbs of Kansas, one of the seven governors whose letter brought out

Col. Roosevelt's declaration that his hat was in the ring, has been fighting for his candidate every inch of the way. James R. Garfield of Ohio has also been working industriously for Col. Roosevelt.

Colonel Roosevelt's Reception in Chicago Was Very Gratifying to His Many Friends

CHICAGO, June 18.—The arrival of Col. Roosevelt in Chicago was dramatic, and the enthusiastic reception that he received was extremely gratifying to his friends. He was nearly mobbed before he reached his hotel, and he was almost immediately compelled to make a speech from the hotel balcony. His opponents were disagreeably surprised at the enthusiasm shown for the former president.

MAN'S MEMORY IS GONE AND HE IS VOICELESS ALSO

Strange Victim of Aphasia Has
Been in Hospital Since

SPRING LAKE, N. J., June 18.—

"Billie," a grown man, sits propped up in a cot in the Ann May Memorial hospital here, a mystery to all physicians and surgeons and unable to tell who he is or where he came from—a man of education and refinement, with a loss of memory. He has been dubbed "Billie" for lack of another name.

The patient cannot speak, although apparently there is nothing wrong with his vocal organs. He writes answers to all questions, but can remember nothing of the past. Physically, he is in good condition; mentally, he is a child when it comes to thinking of the past.

He has been in the hospital since June 4, and scores of persons have journeyed miles to see if they could identify him. He has been asked time after time to tell something about himself, but with the aid of his pen and paper he always answers that he does not know his name, age, address, relatives or the least thing about himself.

The patient was found on the road near Wreck Pond bridge at Sea Girt by Thomas H. Devlin. It was thought at first that he was suffering from a drug or liquor. Restoratives were applied and he rallied. He thumped himself on the back of the head, to indicate that he was suffering. He was watched carefully, and the physicians believed he was suffering from a form of epilepsy, due probably to a blow on the head.

On the second day the physicians thought he was suffering from "Jacksonian Epilepsy." Examination of the head showed that a bone near the right temple had been trepanned a long time ago.

A few days ago "Billie" opened his eyes and motioned for pencil and paper. He wrote a note to the man occupying the adjoining cot, declaring he had had nothing to eat for ten days. Since that time he has been scribbling notes constantly, some of them intelligible, others without meaning. His appetite has been good and he appears to be able to eat anything.

ARRESTS FIANCE

MISS KOSTER CLAIMS SHARE OF WEDDING PRESENTS

NEW YORK, June 18.—Miss Anna Koster, of Hastings-on-Hudson, had her fiance, Andrew Singer, arrested yesterday for refusing to wed her after procuring a marriage license. At the last moment Singer sent word to Miss Koster that he didn't believe he loved her, after all, and was therefore, going to remain single.

Relatives and friends had sent them wedding presents, including household articles and sums of money. These were not returned. Instead Singer took half of the articles, but was a little more selfish in the disposition of the money. He kept it all to himself and refused to share it with his jilted fiancée.

Miss Koster consulted an attorney, and upon his advice she went to Police Justice Hogan to obtain a warrant for Singer.

"Can't I prosecute him for refusing to marry me?" she asked the justice. He informed her that her only redress in that direction lay in a civil action. When told of her being deprived of her share of the wedding money the justice gave her a warrant on the charge of larceny in the third degree.

Singer was arraigned and pleaded guilty. He said that he felt that the man was entitled to distribute the wedding presents as he saw fit. However, he consented to split the money with Miss Koster. He gave the justice $50 to turn over to her, so the complaint was dismissed.

PRESIDENT TAFT

GAVE DINNER TO SPEAKER FERRERA OF CUBAN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 18.—President Taft's dinner last night to Speaker Ferrera of the Cuban house of representatives is regarded by diplomats here as a further evidence of the intentions of this government to maintain its attitude of non-intervention in Cuba. The function was not extended to Speaker Ferrera as an individual but was intended as a demonstration of the friendly feelings of the United States toward the Cuban government. Former Speaker Cannon and many officials of this government attended. Officials here generally regard the Cuban situation as being under better control now and there is a possibility that the American warships may be withdrawn soon to continue their summer drills in northern waters. Their marines, of course, will be left for the protection of property.

FAMOUS DANCER GIVES COMPLEXION SECRETS

(Alleen Moore in Beauty's Mirror) I've learned the secret of Dolores' entrancing beauty—the wondrous charm that has dazzled the courts of Europe and captivated vast audiences everywhere. The famous dancer adorns rouges and cosmetics. Yet, despite the stentorian of her life, she retains the incomparable complexion best described as "indescribable." An intimate friend tells me the senorita regularly uses on her face what druggists know as mercurized wax. This is applied at night in the manner of cold cream is used and washed off in the morning. It absorbs the dead particles of skin which daily appear, and a fair, soft, fresh, girlish complexion is always in evidence. Dolores' skin is not marred by a single wrinkle, not even the finest line. She wards these off by daily bathing the face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered sassafras in a half-pint of water. As your drug stores keep these ingredients, as well as mercurized wax (one ounce of this is sufficient), no doubt your readers will welcome this information.

A NEW CHAPTER

ADDED TO THEODORE RYERSON, JR.'S, ROMANTIC CAREER

NEW YORK, June 18.—The romantic, but unfortunate, career of Theodore Addis Ryerson, Jr., has reached at last a happy climax of contentment according to his friends. For the young broker, who married Mrs. Helen Cook Walters, a beautiful Chicago widow, after she had obtained a verdict of $3,000 for breach of promise against him, is now a beneficiary for the second time, was married on Saturday in the home of his parents at New Brunswick, N. J., to Miss Ora M. Starr of Cambridge, N. Y. Although his intimate friends knew of the ceremony it was a surprise to many of his acquaintances to learn that the first marriage had ended in divorce. To many the announcement of his second wedding was the first news of his separation from the former Mrs. Walters. The decree was granted May 27. It is said that Mrs. Walters Ryerson has taken up the stage as a profession.

EXPECTED SOON

Battle Close to American Border

JUAREZ, Mexico, June 18.—Distinct tension is manifest here today over the news of the latest government plans to capture this town and the city of Chihuahua, the only important rebel points.

The approach of big federal columns from the state of Sonora makes it obvious fighting will occur close to the American border within a few days.

That American officials are expecting an engagement is indicated by correspondence made public yesterday between Col. Steever, commander of the department of Texas, and Pascual Orozco, senior, father of the rebel commander-in-chief, and head of the Juarez garrison. Col. Steever cautions the rebel commander that in case of an encounter at Juarez "you must so conduct operations as not to bring any part of the territory of the United States under fire." Col. Orozco agreed to meet the conditions imposed by Col. Steever but without promising to do so in case the American authorities sanction the passing to this side of the Maderista troops which are being recruited in El Paso.

1000 PERSONS HOMELESS AS RESULT OF TORNADO

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 18.—

Through the tornado which, accompanied by a severe electrical storm, swept over this section yesterday afternoon, not a single house, barn or stable was left intact in Jacksonville. The 1000 inhabitants of the place are camping in the fields. Scores are suffering from burns of a more or less serious character, and physicians have been sent from neighboring towns. Members of the Unity Presbyterian church had close escapes from death when the tornado tore the roof from the building. Last night the greater portion of southern Washington county was cut off from the outside world, and it was impossible to make an accurate estimate of the entire loss in the tornado. Figures received show that at least $100,000 worth of property was destroyed without making any estimate on a large number of valuable orchards swept away and summer crops simply wiped out.

It was the worst storm that ever visited Washington and Green counties, and last night a good part of the affected district remained stunned and unable to take any steps to find out just what had been lost. The storm followed no fixed direction, but worked its way around over a wide stretch of territory, sometimes cutting a swath a mile wide, while in other sections its path was not more than a hundred yards in width.

DROPS POLICEMEN WHO USED CLUBS

Summary Action Was Taken by Waldo

NEW YORK, June 18.—Five patrolmen were dismissed for attacks upon citizens, and a sergeant was dropped for incivility in making an arrest, by order of Police Commissioner Waldo, made public last night. Six other dismissals were made for various causes. The list follows.

Henry Vebstedt, sergeant, sixth precinct, June 6, was not quiet, civil and orderly while making arrest.

Theodore Schreiber, eighth precinct, May 31, failed to arrest beggar.

Emil Kepko, twenty-first precinct, May 28, (1) failed to take proper police action; (2) failed to promptly respond to call for assistance.

Patrick Fee, twenty-first precinct, June 4, struck man on head with clenched fist while in civilian clothes.

James J. O'Connell, twenty-first precinct, June 4, struck man on head with butt end of revolver while in civilian clothes.

William P. Fagan, twenty-first precinct, June 4, (1) failed to take proper police action; (2) failed to report case of assault.

Michael J. Sullivan, twenty-first precinct, June 4, (1) failed to take proper police action; (2) failed to report case of assault.

William P. Rooney, twenty-eighth precinct, June 4, absent from post; (3) failed to obtain permission and make entry.

James V. Riordan, thirty-sixth precinct, June 4, struck man with night baton without cause.

Christian L. Zimmer, C. O. Squad, June 4, struck man in the face with fist without cause.

Present Price System Wrong

That the present price system is wrong is easily seen by comparing prices which we pay for articles at the store with their actual manufacturing cost when the latter can be learned. Usually the store price is nearly double the manufacturer's price, i. e., we pay twice as much for an article as it is really worth. Thousands of women throughout the country have found a remedy for this. They buy their soaps, teas, spices, and other foodstuffs and household supplies direct from Larkin Co., and thus get the benefit of factory prices on everything. This saves them fully one-half with every purchase. If in one month for instance, they usually buy $20.00 worth of household supplies from stores, they can get these same supplies from Larkin Co. for $10.00 in a short time such a saving as this becomes great. Write today to Larkin Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and ask them for a copy of their large Catalog R25. This explains their plan to you in detail, and describes the five hundred household supplies which they supply you at such big savings.

COAL PER TON $7.50

THE CHICAGO CONFLICT

In spite of all the efforts of Justice Hughes to suppress the report that he is a dark horse in the presidential race, it is still current, and there are many who believe that he will be nominated as a compromise candidate. He has declared emphatically that under no circumstances would he accept the nomination, and he has repeatedly stated that this declaration is final. Nevertheless, should a deadlock occur there are many politicians who would be glad to see Justice Hughes nominated as the best solution of the difficulty which now threatens the existence of the republican party.

Ex-President Roosevelt is now on the ground, and it can be assumed that he will do everything in his power to stamper the convention, and to have as many delegates as possible break away from their allegiance to Taft. The report started Sunday afternoon to the effect that many of the southern delegations had actually gone over to the Roosevelt camp was probably the result of an effort to accomplish that end. Some of the delegates did break away, but there were not enough to justify the report of a general stampede of the southern delegates to the Roosevelt camp.

What is wanted among the Taft forces is a tactful leader. With such a leader they should be able to win without difficulty, but otherwise the big bully is liable to gain a sufficient number of points to accomplish the defeat of his opponent. He will stop short of nothing that he may deem necessary to carry the day. Already some of the Taft delegates have made affidavits that they have been offered large sums as bribes in order to induce them to go over. There is very little doubt that money has been used for the purchase of delegates by the Roosevelt forces in spite of the fact that he is now, as he has been from the beginning, charging his opponents with all kinds of fraud and trickery.

FIGHTING THE WHITE PLAGUE

During the hot weather a great deal can be done in the fight against tuberculosis. By successful treatment the incipient cases can be cured and those that have attained a serious stage may be effectively checked by outdoor life, exercise, good food and rest which are the ingredients that count in the fight against the white plague.

During the last ten years the death rate from tuberculosis in the United States fell from 196.9 for each 100,000 persons to 150.3, a decrease of 18.7 per cent., while the general death rate, including all causes of death, declined only half as fast or at the rate of 9.7 per cent. These are the figures of the census bureau, and they show that the fight against tuberculosis is bearing good fruit. It is, therefore, desirable to keep it up so that the percentages of deaths from year to year will be steadily reduced. It is to be expected that the decline in the death rate from this disease during the next ten years would be very much larger than during the last ten.

THE PARCELS POST

The parcels post, if we can ever get it, will be of great benefit to the people in offering a quick method of delivering small packages. It would bring the producer and the consumer closer together and thus eliminate some of the extortions that are practised by the greedy middlemen. Two bills are before congress, the Sulzer bill and the Bourne bill, but there does not seem to be a sufficient popular demand for this improvement to move congress to decisive action. Yet the parcels post would assist the people in cutting down the cost of living, it would protect them against the extortion and the delay of express companies and would accomplish a great reform.

AVIATION ACCIDENTS

The various causes of aviation accidents have been classified under several heads which are about equally divided between the machine and the aviator. The machine has a wrong principle, or some of its parts are too light to bear the resistance of the air when they are in rapid motion. On the other hand the aviator is inexperienced or else loses his head even when there is no special danger. The wind or other condition of the atmosphere is another cause that must always be considered, and some aviators have lost their lives by going up in high wind when none but the foolhardy would venture a flight.

The state of Missouri has a law making it a felony for a motorist who runs over, injures, or kills a pedestrian to pass on without leaving his name or the number of his license. The law was recently tested by an appeal to the supreme court, and was fully sustained as a reasonable exercise of the police power. Such a law should exist in every state in the union, merely to prevent as far as possible the escape of reckless drivers who knock down pedestrians and pass on without stopping to inquire whether the victims have been killed or seriously injured. So many lives have been taken by reckless motorists that some law of this kind is an absolute necessity here in Massachusetts. The speed limit has been abolished in this state as a result of a decision of the supreme court, and now the driver alone is the judge of the rate of speed at which he can drive. It seems to be the rule that no matter how fast he drives he cannot violate the law unless he kills somebody, and even then he generally escapes on the ground that the person killed was to blame for getting in the way.

One of our readers complains that it is customary with some new police officers to make a record for arrests by pulling in men who are slightly intoxicated, and who might more properly be sent to their homes. It is easy for a police officer to get up a colloquy with a man who is slightly intoxicated in order to find a pretext for his arrest. The officers who would be guilty of such conduct, if there are any, are not doing their duty. A record for unnecessary arrests is worse than no arrests at all, and the officers should be led to understand that this is a fact.

Edison says he can spend his money to better advantage than by giving it to Tech or any other college. Perhaps he can. In his opinion the only proper use of money is experimentation on electric and other inventions. He hints that Rockefeller and Frick have more money than they know what to do with. They should receive all the assistance they need.

Unfortunately after the great labor meeting on Boston common, the strikers fell on the police and gave some of them a good mauling. That did not help their cause. The whole trouble should be arbitrated. Compulsory arbitration should be provided in all cases in which a strike inflicts any injury or inconvenience upon the public.

What of an appropriation for the Fourth of July? We imagine the man who would mention such a proposition would have his name put upon the recall list.

Seen and Heard

Perhaps you may have the idea that there is no such thing as love at first sight, but did you ever see a hundred-dollar bill?

A pretty girl sometimes isn't, until she gets ready to be seen.

The man who slaps you on the back in hot weather probably doesn't realize fully what a fearful risk he runs.

Sometimes it is impossible to keep your friends, even by doing favors for them all the time.

LIFE'S SELF-DEFENSE

They do me wrong who say that life's more full.

Of sunless sorrow that it is of song. Through every day, in measures beautiful.

The joy of utter living rolls along. The frequent sorrow and the petty care.

Serve but to blind the masses to the truth. That for each sorrow and each dark despair.

Life holds in equal measure hope and youth.

They do me wrong who claim that I am hard.

That I am cruel and bitter, when I hold.

So much of tenderness and loving cheer.

With wandering wings my children to enfold.

They are unjust who claim that I am false.

To all fair promise, when my whole desire.

Is that my children may in deed fulfill.

The dreams toward which their burning souls aspire.

They do me wrong who cry that want and woe.

Are far more plentiful in life than joy.

When down the years wherever men may go.

The very sunbeams of my will destroy.

The dark and care and shadows which men bring.

Upon themselves—I'm always helping those.

Who cannot climb, to rise on my own wing.

Unto the promised beauty of the rose.

I am not dark and dreary and forlorn.

My days are deep in numerous happy dreams.

My way is one that leads to hopeful morn.

Where man's success upon the sunlit gleams.

All, all I ask is purpose, will and right.

An apt obedience to the common rule.

That only truth can take or give the light.

While I am master of the human school.

Which is the more to be pitied, the man who has no ideals or the man who has nothing else?

Some people when they estimate how rich they are figure how much they have got and how much they can buy on credit.

There are some drawbacks even to great wealth. Think of having to pay taxes on a million dollars' worth of property!

The good-natured man has a lot of friends, but how he is imposed on!

Meanness! It is surprising how mean some people can be. Last Friday afternoon a female patron of the street railway boarded a car and tendered the conductor a dollar bill for

NATURE'S FOOD-MEDICINE

There is nothing in the world more beneficial to you, whether you are sick and want to get well and strong again, or if well to stay well, than pure olive oil. Physicians today are recommending Pompeian Olive Oil, because of its purity, to thousands of patients, and so wide is its beneficial effect, that it may be referred to as a panacea for nearly all ills. In nearly every case, it accomplishes what is expected of it, and in this way it could almost be referred to as a specific.

Pompeian Olive Oil is a food without equal. It builds up the tissues, enriches the blood and restores strength. It is a medicine because it aids digestion, relieves and prevents constipation and strengthens the body to throw off disease. Being easy to digest it is of the greatest value to people suffering with weak stomachs.

The very best results from Pompeian Olive Oil are obtained when it is taken regularly with each meal, either plain or over salads or foods. It is most palatable even to those who never used olive oil and who think it has a greasy, unpleasant taste. Pompeian Olive Oil has a sweet, nutty flavor, not to be found in any other kind. This is due to the fact that Pompeian is from the first pressing of hand picked Italian olives and is not chemically treated.

Pompeian Olive Oil is sold by druggists and grocers. Pull one-half pint cans, 25 cents; full pint cans, 50 cents; full quart cans, 90 cents.

her fare. He put the bill in his pocket, dug down into another and gave her a half dollar, when something required his presence at the rear of the car, and when he returned she said to him: "Give me my change." He remembered she had given him a dollar, and he dug down and proceeds to give her 55 cents. Did she remind him he had previously given her a half dollar? Oh, no; not on your life. When the car got to Merrimack square she got lost in the shuffle just as quick as she could, and the conductor was short a half dollar when he came to square up that night.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The Temple Players at the Merrimack Square theatre were given a real send-off yesterday by the regular patrons of this popular house, as this is their last week after an engagement of eight consecutive weeks. The attendance at both performances yesterday was very large and when the Temple Players appeared in their novel sketch entitled "A Night at the Cabaret," which was their parting piece, they were given a real ovation. Song after song was applauded to the echo showing the real popularity these players enjoy in this city. The real "Good-Bye" performance will be given at the sacred concert Sunday afternoon and evening when each member of the cast will appear in his or her most popular number during their stay here.

There are two other rich numbers on this week's bill. Le Reux, impersonator and character change artist, who is very clever in his make-up. Claude Austin, the other, is a comedy juggler and his act is wonderful. It is very entertaining and some of his stunts are unusually clever. The photo-plays for the first three days of the week are again among the best picture-plays shown locally. They include comedy offerings, dramatic productions and educational series that are especially good. The temperature of the theatre is always cool and comfortable.

THEATRE VOYONS

You have read many times of Sherlock Holmes and other great detectives, but seldom of a woman. In "Ketchum Kate" a comedy by the Biograph company a stenographer turns detective with the aid of a false detective agency and strange to relate really does capture a crook. "Neighbors," another comedy is a snappy bright affair with just enough burlesque to amuse. "The Gun Smugglers," a strong Kalen drama of the Mexican revolution is a thriller and "Ten Days on a U. S. Battleship" is a most interesting educational film. The musical selections are most pleasing.

ALWAYS SUSPECT YOUR STOMACH

Do Not Be Fooled by Misleading Symptoms.

If your digestion is out of order you may have symptoms that will mislead you into thinking you have heart disease, kidney trouble, some nervous or blood disorder. Better look to the blood first. It is here that the blood goes its nourishment. If the digestion is disordered, the blood will be out of order. Poor digestion fills the blood with poisons. This impure blood poisons every tissue of the body. The dyspeptic awakes in the morning with a dull, heavy head and is irritable, melancholy, and dizzy because the brain, nerves and muscles have been poisoned from the stomach.

Mrs. W. F. Raullard, whose address is R. F. D. No. 1, West Kennebunk, Me., says: "I tried two doctors and both failed to help me. I had a bad stomach and did not think I would ever get well. My stomach would pain me severely at times, which I believe was due to gas forming on it. Sometimes my food would cause sour stomach. My liver was torpid. I had palpitation of the heart and if I walked fast my heart would beat rapidly and I would get all out of breath. I had hot flashes all over my body. I was extremely nervous and if excited would tremble like a leaf and have no control over my actions. Towards the last when I was so sick, my head ached over the eyes affecting the sight. I had frequent spells of weakness and would have to lie down and rest. I had neither strength nor ambition and did my work indifferently. I lost greatly in weight. I had been sick for several years when a friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People because they had helped her and I began to take them. I soon felt better and was so pleased that I continued their use until I was cured. I am willing to tell anyone of my cure and have recommended the pills to many people."

A new edition of the booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat," is free on request. Send a postal for it to day and begin to cure yourself by following the directions it contains.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

JAIL SENTENCE

FOR AN AUTOIST

Who While Drunk Ran Over a Little Girl

GLOUCESTER, June 18.—In the eastern district court yesterday Albert P. Jewell was found guilty of recklessly operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and sentenced to the house of correction for a term of three months. Last Friday morning Jewell, who is the driver for an express company, ran down and seriously injured Grace Luffy, a school girl, at the corner of Church and Prospect streets.

The automobile passed over her body and she was taken to the hospital in a serious condition. Jewell went to the police station and told of the accident, and yesterday in court Chief of Police Poland told the court that at the time the defendant was in his office he was intoxicated, and admitted that he had taken several drinks that morning. Marshal Poland stated that the man acted as though he did not care any more about the accident than if he had merely lost a tire.

Several schoolmates of the little girl testified that the machine was going at a fast rate of speed, and that although Jewell shouted "look out," that he did not try to change the course of the automobile and that the machine was not stopped until it was nearly 350 feet away, and even then Jewell did not come near the girl whom he had injured.

Captain Bowie, a passerby, testified that when Jewell turned in from Middle street to go up Church street his machine shot to the left and struck the curbstone, and that before he had control of it, it shot to the other side of the street and hit that curbstone. He said that the man was intoxicated. Jewell in his own behalf stated that he was not under the influence of liquor and that he had only one drink that morning. He said that the machine was not traveling over three miles an hour, but when asked as to why the automobile was not stopped within a shorter distance than it was, he remained silent.

Judge York in summing up the case said: "After considering the evidence carefully in this case, I find that the defendant was under the influence of liquor, and that he was operating his automobile in a manner as to seriously injure this little girl, and endanger the lives of others. The time has come when the country must take action against these kind of drivers, who have no regard for the safety of persons who use the public highway. I find the defendant guilty and order him committed to the house of correction for three months." Jewell appealed.

STABS POLICEMAN

WHILE HE WAS MAKING AN ARREST

BOSTON, June 18.—Patrolman Patrick Toland of the Charlestown station received a knife wound in the back about 5.30 last night while arresting some men at the corner of Tremont and Chelsea streets.

The police say that a crowd set upon a man and beat him just as Toland and Officer D. A. Shea of the same station came in sight.

"They grabbed three of the disturbers. During the melee Toland got the wound in the back. The injured officer with the assistance of Shea arrested Peter Morilla, 21; James Spinner, 30; and Augustus Spinello, 30, and they are charged with assaulting some unknown person.

MAN FINED $50

FOR PART HE TOOK IN STRIKE DISTURBANCE

In superior court, criminal session yesterday afternoon in Cambridge, Jaber Hiaslin, who in the lower court had been sentenced to a month in jail for assault on an unknown person, and who had appealed, had his sentence changed to a fine of $50, which was satisfactory to Supt. Welch. Jaber was arrested on March 28 for throwing a stone at an unknown person, when a group of strikers invaded Belvidere.

Napoleon Charest, who had been sentenced to four months to the house of correction for drunkenness and who had appealed, received a sentence of two months to the same institution.

"SKIDDING" ACCIDENTS

Could be Prevented by Use of Chain

MAN DROWNED

LIVES OF TWO OTHERS WERE ENDANGERED

AUBURN, N. Y., June 18.—The second double electrocution in the history of the Auburn prison took place this morning when Ralph Friedman and Jacob Kuhn, the Rochester burglars who murdered George A. Schuchart, a grocer whose store they were robbing, paid the extreme penalty. Friedman went to the chair first without losing the remarkable nerve that has sustained him from the moment of his conviction. Kuhn, who had lost his nerve during the past few days and had insisted that his execution would be an injustice because he did not fire the revolver that killed Schuchart, changed his demeanor during the final hours and went to his death smiling. Friedman was pronounced dead at 6.14 o'clock. The first batch of witnesses had scarcely passed out of the chamber when the second set came in. They were seated a minute later and at 6.18 Kuhn entered the chamber, his eyes alert and a smile curving his lips as he uttered prayers.

An Easy Trip Through Yellowstone Park

What can wipe out the weariness of a hard winter like a good vacation trip? And where else in all the world are there so many curious and awe-inspiring sights as in Yellowstone National Park. The journey to the entrance itself via the Burlington Route is full of pleasure and once inside, you are in a world of wonders. Your tour of the Park may be made by stage-coach with stops at perfectly appointed hotels, or you can for rent life you can spend a glorious week in camping out. THE AMERICANS

CONTINUE TO TRAIN ON BOARD SHIP

ON BOARD THE S. S. FINLAND, AT SEA, BY WIRELESS, VIA SIACONNET, Mass., June 18.

The training of the large team of athletes who are proceeding to Stockholm to represent the United States in the Olympic games is being kept up with the utmost vigor, and as far as the circumstances space on shipboard will permit the daily work of the men is similar to that which they would go through if they were on land. Both morning and afternoon all the men except a half dozen who are seafarers turn out on deck for hard practice under the direction of Trainer Murphy, who is endeavoring to keep them in thorough physical condition so that when they reach land a few trout on shore will bring them to the top of their former form.

The swimming tanks on board are very popular among the athletes to whom they have proved of great benefit. One of them stretched a beam on the after deck. This created a surf effect when the ship rolls which is greatly enjoyed. On Sunday a church service was held in the dining saloon.

The outing of the employees of the Hanson, Consolidated Store Service company, held at Mountain Rock grove yesterday, which was briefly reported in yesterday's Sun, proved one of the best days ever enjoyed by the employees of the company. And at that it was not only the employees, but the superintendent and overseers who were on hand and the manner in which all mingled, attested the cordial spirit existing between employee and employer. There were about two hundred present and they went to the grove in the morning and returned late in the afternoon. Upon the arrival of all at the grounds, the boys got going right on the reel. The first thing attended to was the location of the refreshment tables and after these were formally established, the diamond was arranged.

OPENING CLASH AT CHICAGO

Big Fight Came on Organization of Republican Convention

The fight broke out in the republican convention immediately after prayer was offered by Rev. Fr. Callaghan of Chicago. The Roosevelt men wanted certain delegates whose seats were contested prevented from voting on the question of organizing the convention. The Taft leaders objected to this procedure and Senator Penrose classed the Roosevelt contention as all rot. It was with difficulty that the aisles were cleared to allow business to proceed. Gov. Hadley, who is leading the fight on the floor for Roosevelt, started the excitement.

LOWELL DEFEATED IN TODAY'S GAME

Lynn Won by Score of 10 to 8—
Lonergan's Home Run
Feature of Game

Lowell and Lynn met at Spaulding park this afternoon and although there was a brisk wind blowing across the diamond and the weather was not ideal for baseball there was an attendance of about five hundred. While some of the enthusiasts were chilly during the game the majority of those present were of the "red hot fan" order and they became so interested in the game at times that they managed to work up enough of warmth to forget that they wore straw hats and light clothing instead of fur caps and heavy sweaters.

The players worked under difficulties owing to the wind but the game, on the whole, proved to be a good one. Lynn was confident of winning today's game owing to the rather one-sided game between Lynn and Lowell at Lynn yesterday morning, but the Grays were out to do a good job on the people who play ball near the beach and put up a good proposition.

If the weather had been more favorable there would have been a big attendance of Lynn fans, but those who did come to this city were well repaid for their trouble, for they witnessed a good game and at various points had a splendid opportunity to cheer for their team.

On the other hand the Lowell rooters had their voices cleared and cheered the home team at every opportunity.

Blum made his first appearance as a pitcher for Lowell in today's game and he played well. Lavigne was on the receiving end of the battery. For Lynn, Wallis was in the box and Weeden was behind the bat.

Prior to the opening of the game it was announced that Manager Gray had secured the services of Owens who is the crack pitcher who formerly played with Worcester.

Umpire Lannigan was the decision maker and he called the game at three o'clock, the lineup of the teams being as follows:

Lowell	Lynn
Clemens, cf	Orcutt, rf
Miller, 2b	Strands, 2b
De Groff, 3b	McGovern, 3b
McGinnell, 1b	Murch, ss
Magee, lf	Cargo, ss
Boultes, 2b	Lonergan, 2b
Lonergan, 2b	Wallace, c
Lavigne, c	Weeden, c
Blum, p	Wallis, p

First Inning

Lynn started off by scoring one run in the first inning. Orcutt, the first man up, fouled off to Lavigne. Strands struck out but Lavigne dropped the ball and recovered it in time to throw the runner out at first. McGovern drew a free pass. Murch got a scratch single. Cargo followed with a single to right field and McGovern scored. Logan was third out, Boultes to first.

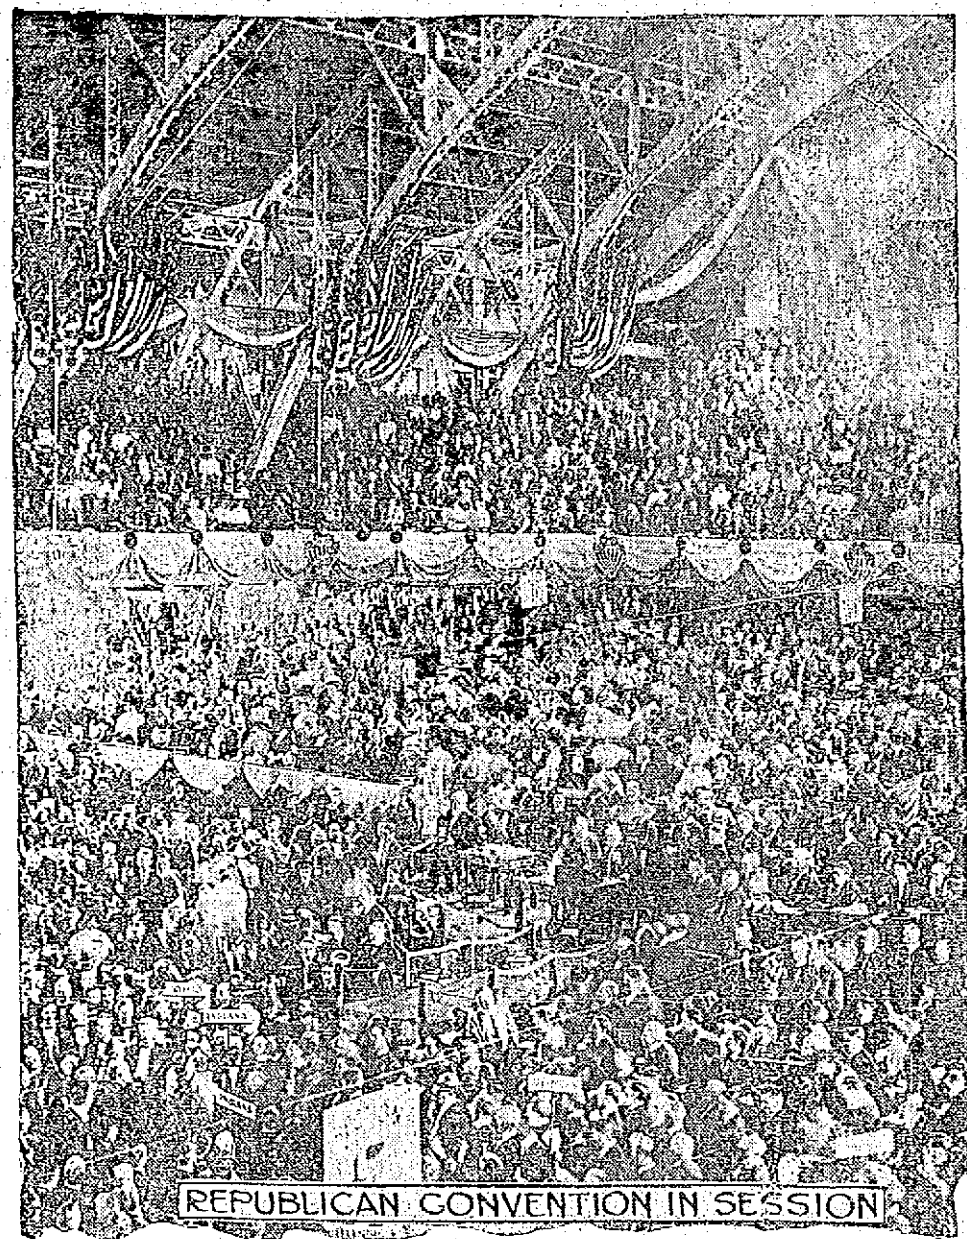

In the latter half of the inning Clemens singled to left garden and went to second on Miller's sacrifice. Clemens then tried to steal third but was nailed, though the decision was a very close one. DeGroff was third out on a fly to Logan.

Score—Lowell 0, Lynn 1.

Second Inning

In the second inning Wallace struck out and Weeden singled to centre field. Waller got hit by a pitched ball and walked to first. Orcutt singled to left field and the bases were filled. Strands and Weeden tried the squeeze play but Strands was out. Blum to first while Weeden scored. McGovern drew a base on balls. Murch hit through Boultes and Waller scored. Cargo was third out. Lonergan to first.

There was nothing doing in the latter half of the inning, although it looked at one time as though the home team would score one or more runs. McGinnell sent a grounder which McGovern gathered in. Magee then sent

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION IN SESSION

CHICAGO, June 18.—Prior to the meeting of the national convention at noon today ten leaders of the Taft and Roosevelt forces held their last conference and mapped out their final plans of campaign for the day.

As they started for the big Coliseum it was the announced purpose of the Roosevelt forces to delay the temporary organization of the convention as long as they could. They had two propositions. One was the original plan of a substitute roll for the temporary roll reported by the national committee and containing Roosevelt delegates in place of many of the Taft delegates seated by the committee. The other was the resolution adopted at a caucus of Roosevelt delegates early today which would seek to prevent any action by the convention except on the affirmative vote of 540 uncontested delegates. Up to noon neither side had been able to count 540 uncontested delegates as a voting unit.

There was every indication that the fight would break as soon as the prayer had been offered and the roll of the convention read. The Roosevelt delegates were determined that their proposition that action should be taken only by affirmative vote of 540 uncontested delegates should apply to the choice of a temporary chairman. In other years there has been no such rule, and the Taft forces declared today it was not in order.

Calls It All Rot

It was thus that Senator Penrose, whom the Roosevelt followers are inclined to consider the chief of the steamrollers, characterized the action of the Roosevelt caucus regarding the election of temporary officers for the convention.

"It is all rot," he said, "nothing but rot, and it will come to nothing. Can't you see that if we should proceed upon the principle of permitting votes by such delegates as occupy uncontested seats it would be possible to control all of the seats and thus reduce the proposition to an absolute absurdity."

As the seats began to fill up the 20 big patrolmen who had been sitting in the front row of delegates' seats stood up and "bent faced" so as to front upon the "arena" where so soon the greatest factional struggle in recent political history was expected to break into action. Thus far there has been no cheering he went to the plate with the determination of doing something in order to save the home team. The first ball pitched proved to be a strike on the batter. It was a case of gloom with the Lowell fans. Waller then sent the second ball and Lonergan swinging his bat slammed it. The contact of the bat and the ball made a resounding noise which could be heard for a distance and although it looked as though the sphere was going over the right field fence for a home run, it dropped just inside the fence in the extreme corner and while Strands was doing a regular Bonnie Webers run for the ball Magee reached the plate and subsequently Lonergan scored, it being one of the neatest home runs made this year. Lavigne closed the inning by flying to Strands.

Score—Lowell 3, Lynn 5.

Fifth Inning

Another run for Lynn in the fifth inning. Weeden was the first man to bat and he made his third consecutive hit, it being a single to right. He went to second on Waller's sacrifice. Orcutt hit to Lonergan, who threw him out at first. Strands singled to left field and Weeden scored. Strands tried to steal second and was thrown out by Lavigne.

In Lowell's half Zeiser drew a base on balls and Clemens singled over second base. Miller followed with a strikeout. DeGroff also struck out. McGinnell hit to Logan, who tagged second, getting Clemens.

Score—Lowell 3, Lynn 7.

Sixth Inning

There was nothing doing for the visitors in the sixth inning. McGovern started out by slugging the ball to Lonergan who after making a pretty pickup throw him out at first. Murch popped a fly which looked like a safe hit but "Lonny" was there with the run and the mitt and he after making a long hard backward run gathered in the sphere. Cargo struck out.

Magee struck out. Boultes flied to Wallace, in deep centre field, the latter making a beautiful running catch. Lonergan, who in the fourth inning made a home run, was given his base on balls. Lavigne singled to centre and Lonergan traveled to third. Zeiser doubled to right field and Lonergan and Lavigne scored. There was considerable enthusiasm when the two men crossed the plate and a dose that is a constant attendant, howled its delight. Clemens flied out to Orcutt.

Score—Lowell 5, Lynn 7.

Seventh Inning

Logan flied to Miller. Wallace flied to Boultes who gathered in the ball after making a hard run. Weeden flied to Magee.

In the latter half of the inning Miller struck out and Weeden dropped the ball

The real struggle between the rival republican candidates for the presidential nomination began shortly after noon today when Chairman Rosewater called the great convention to order.

Five hundred policemen were ordered to the convention hall to preserve order. For the first time in the history of the republican party the picture of the president was missing from the convention hall decorations.

The rival factions are lined up for battle, and a bitter fight is promised.

COMMENCEMENT DAY AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Address to the Graduates Delivered by Dr. Snedden of the State Board

The commencement exercises of the fourteenth class of the state normal school of Lowell were held in the school hall at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The weather conditions were ideal for the exercises and many out of town people, parents and friends of the young graduates, were present and looked with great pleasure upon the happy young graduates who received their diplomas.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, potted plants, ferns and streamers of the class colors, blue and gold, being artistically arranged around the assembly room. The other rooms of the school were also decorated. The exercises opened at 2:30 o'clock and the graduates, dressed in white, marched from an adjoining room to the school hall.

The exercises were then formally opened with a chorus, entitled "Pirates of Penzance." Dr. David Snedden, com-

Score—Lowell 5, Lynn 7.

Seventh Inning

Logan flied to Miller. Wallace flied to Boultes who gathered in the ball after making a hard run. Weeden flied to Magee.

In the latter half of the inning Miller struck out and Weeden dropped the ball and the runner beat the ball to first. Miller stole second and went to third on a poor throw by the catcher. De Groff struck out. McGinnell hit to Logan, who threw him out at first. Strands singled to left field and Weeden scored. Strands tried to steal second and was thrown out by Lavigne.

Score—Lowell 5, Lynn 7.

Eighth Inning

In the eighth inning Waller hit to Miller and died at first. Orcutt struck out. Strands hit to Zeiser and died at first. Lonergan was the first man to bat and after getting two balls, made a strike, got a foul strike and then went out on strikes, it being the tenth strikeout for Waller. Lavigne flied to Strands. Zeiser flied to Cargo.

Score—Lowell 8, Lynn 7.

Ninth Inning

McGovern drew a base on balls. Murch was hit by a pitched ball and went to first while McGovern went to second. Cargo struck out. Logan singled to left and McGovern scored. Wallace hit to Miller and was out at first. Weeden hit to Lonergan and fumbled and Murch and Logan scored. Waller hit to Miller who threw Weeden out at second.

Clemens beat out an infield hit and reached first. Miller also beat out an infield hit, and reached first. De Groff went out on a grounder to McGovern, both men being advanced. McGinnell doubled to left and Clemens and Miller scored. McGinnell went to third on a wild pitch. Magee drew a base on balls. Boultes flied to Logan. Magee tried to steal second and was thrown out.

Runs—Lowell 8, Lynn 10.

Hits—Lowell 12, Lynn 11.

Errors—Lowell 2, Lynn 2.

ANNUAL REUNION OF MANNING FAMILY

Were Chosen

The annual reunion of the Manning Family association was held yesterday in the old and historic Manning Manse in Haverhill. There was a large attendance as is usual every year, over one hundred of the descendants of the Manning family being present.

One of the most distinguished members of the family present was William H. Manning, the honorary president, who is 82 years of age, but he appeared to be almost as active as the younger members of the family and he thoroughly enjoyed himself. The members of the family came from long distances, but the person who held the record for distance was a Manning who came from Great Falls, Montana. The first of the family to arrive came early in the morning and from about 9 o'clock until noon different members arrived on the grounds. There were carriages at different points of the electric car line to transport the people to and from the grounds and there was a general reception during the time previous to the serving of dinner.

The dinner was served on the lawn and the menu was of the usual high order. At the conclusion of the discussion of the menu the business meeting, including the election of officers, was held. Warren H. Manning, the custodian of the manse and secretary and treasurer of the association, submitted a very favorable report.

The election of the officers resulted as follows: President, Earl G. Manning; vice-president, R. A. Manning; secretary and treasurer, Warren H. Manning; historian, William H. Manning; executive committee, William H. Manning, chairman; Oliver H. Manning, Jr., Seymour Manning, Elizabeth Houghton, Guy Marlon, Joseph McCabe; entertainment committee, Guy Marlon, chairman; A. F. Adams, Miss Mabel Hall, Mrs. George Foster, Mrs. Earl W. Manning; refreshment committee, Mrs. Julia W. Fletcher, chairman; Frank Manning Short, Arthur Warren, Mrs. L. F. Armstrong, Mrs. Benjamin F. Manning; reception committee, Mrs. LeRoy Parkhurst, chairman; Miss Martha Warren, Miss Louise Seale, Mrs. Elizabeth Houghton, Miss Olive McCabe, Miss Isotta Holway, Mrs. Frank Manning Short, Miss Mabel Hall, Mrs. A. D. Marble.

William H. Manning, honorary president of the association, addressed the association and among the other speakers were Curtis Manning of Great Falls, Montana, Charles Manning of Worcester, and others.

The entertainment committee provided a brief program which included vocal and instrumental selections by Mrs. Edna Barron Felch, Miss Edith Marlon, Guy Marlon, E. P. Adams and E. G. Manning.

50TH ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED YESTERDAY

By Temperance Union
at Ayer

The 50th anniversary of the foundation of the Middlesex Northwest Temperance union was observed in Ayer yesterday. The affair consisted of an all day meeting held at the Unitarian church in that town, and included interesting addresses by several notable speakers.

The session was opened at 9.30 o'clock by Rev. A. L. Bumpus of Ayer and was presided over by Rev. E. C. Hayes of Acton. Rev. W. J. Batt of Concord Junction delivered an important address taking as his subject, "Reminiscences of the Organization." The other speakers were: Rev. G. A. Gordon of Lancaster, who spoke on "Massachusetts Temperance Reformers of the Last Half Century;" Mrs. M. W. Shattuck of Groton, Mrs. Claverly of Leominster, Mrs. Katherine L. Stevenson, state president of the W. C. T. U.

The afternoon session was opened at 1.30 o'clock with a prayer service led by Rev. C. L. Pierce of West Acton. A brief business session was held, the committee on resolutions reported a resolve pledging allegiance to the work of the founders of the union, and paying tribute to them. A rising tribute was also paid to the dead members of the organization; and a resolution was adopted commending the prohibitionists of Maine for their plucky fight. A vote of sympathy was passed for Dr. Augustus Lowrey of Ayer, who is seriously ill with pneumonia. It was voted to hold the next meeting in the Baptist church at West Acton, the second Thursday in October.

The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: Rev. E. C. Hayes of Acton, president; Rev. S. N. Adams of Concord Junction, secretary, and a vice president from each town. The larger part of the afternoon was devoted to an address on the history of the organization by Rev. S. N. Adams of Concord Junction.

The other addresses of the afternoon were: "Present Day Legislation," by F. H. Lawton of the Anti-Saloon league, and "The Saloon," by Rev. O. P. Gifford, D. D., of Brookline. The musical part of the service included a soprano solo by Mrs. Fenno of Ayer.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

To be Plank in Democratic Platform

BALTIMORE, June 18.—Adherents of Speaker Champ Clark for the presidential nomination came out openly here yesterday and make it known they would make no fight on the temporary chairmanship and that any man worthy of the office would be acceptable.

News of the Clark position was made known by United States Senator

Stone of Missouri, leader of the Clark forces on the convention floor. Senator Stone came over from Washington and conferred with National Chairman Mack and other committeemen.

When Senator Stone was informed that the arrangements committee was trying to find a man for the temporary chairmanship who was neutral, he said: "I am for Champ Clark for president. The names of several men have been suggested to me for the temporary chairmanship, but I desire to say that any man worthy to preside with dignity and fairness is satisfactory to me. The friends of Speaker Clark cannot afford to be split up over the conferring of the mere fleeting honor of a minor office."

Senator Stone said that, while he believed that 9 out of 10 democrats were for the abrogation of the two-thirds rule for nomination, he did not believe any action would be taken toward its abolishment at this convention.

The boom for Mayor Gaynor, started in the name of the "Democratic Association of New York," became active yesterday with the arrival of Jacob A. Cantor and William A. Black from New York. A Gaynor dinner was given last night and a resolution was passed, pledging the association to work for Mayor Gaynor's nomination.

The high cost of living is to be one of the principal planks in the democratic platform. National committeemen say this is an issue affecting everyone and already the Consumers' league has urged that the party take definite action. Just what form this plank will take has not been indicated. Senator Culberson of Texas was in Baltimore yesterday to look after the accommodations of 100 Wilson boomers who are coming up from his state. Discussing the question of whether the two-thirds rule should be changed, Senator Culberson said:

"The rule should stand at the present convention. If it is to be changed, it should be taken up at this convention, discussed and then placed before the democrats of the country, state by state, for their decision. A crusade against pickpockets and thieves who are waiting to prey upon the convention crowds is to be commenced early next week."

THE MAINE PRIMARIES

Burleigh Leads in Senatorial Fight

PORTLAND, Me., June 18.—Maine yesterday held its first state primary under the new law. It was also the first primary in New England held to express a preference for United States senator.

The republicans cast about half their party strength. The democratic vote was lighter, as was expected, since Senator Gardner and Gov. Folsom had no opponents for renomination. Helping materially to bring out the vote were the contests for nomination for sheriff in nearly all the counties. In 400 cities and towns, including only eight cities, Burleigh has 12,909 votes, Heath 7491 and Powers 4598. This indicates Burleigh's nomination for senator.

In the same places Haines has 16,951 votes and is undoubtedly nominated for governor, Shaw having 4911 and Booth by 3391.

None of the present representatives in congress were opposed for renomination. But there was a lively contest in the first district between Michael T. O'Brien and William M. Ingraham for the democratic nomination as opponent of Asher C. Hinds, and in the 3d district between Forest Goodwin and Hannibal Jamlin for the republican nomination as opponent of Samuel W. Gould.

PROBATE COURT SESSIONS HELD IN THIS CITY TODAY

Dr. and Mrs. Hilton Seek Custody of Latter's Children by a Former Marriage

Two sessions of the probate court were held this morning, the uncontested, which was presided over by Judge McIntire, and the contested with Judge McIntire. In the latter, several cases were brought to the attention of the presiding justice, but all were continued to a later date.

In the uncontested session Lawyer Wilson presented a petition in behalf of Dr. George W. Hilton and his wife, Mary Elizabeth Ruth Hilton, for the custody of the latter's two children, aged 15 years, have been living with their mother and Dr. Hilton ever since, and they are all fond of each other, the doctor especially taking much interest in the welfare of the two young women. The latter were questioned by the court relative to their position in the petition and they answered in the affirmative.

The wills presented at the uncontested session were as follows:

Elbridge Wheeler, alias Jonathan Elbridge Wheeler, Chelmsford; Letitia Robinson Lowell; Catherine J. Titton, Lowell; Annie Duffy, Lowell; Adeline Munson, Lowell; Thomas Phillips, Lowell.

The administrations granted were as follows:

JAMES W. ELLIS HANGED HIMSELF

He Was a Well Known Contractor

Contractor James W. Ellis committed suicide this forenoon by hanging in his barn at 53 White street. When the body was found life had been extinct for some time. Mr. Ellis had been ill for several weeks but despite his illness he refused to take to his bed, and instead continued the supervising of his work, which was a great strain on his physical condition.

This morning he went to his work and returned some time in the forenoon. He entered his barn and shortly before 11 o'clock his son Rossie went in to see what his father was doing. Upon entering the stable the young man found the body of his father hanging at the end of a rope which had been attached to a beam. He cut down the rope and Dr. James J. Cassidy was called, but when he arrived he found that the man was dead.

Deceased is survived by a wife and three children, Rossie, Rhona and James R. Ellis. He was 66 years of age.

Prince to Live in Luxury After His Eighteenth Birthday

PRINCESS MARY AND PRINCE OF WALES.

If you were a boy of eighteen would you like to have your own "special household" with large suites suitably appointed and set apart in two palaces, with a governor and controller of the household, an equerry and two secretaries, as well as a large staff of servants at special wages and coachmen and grooms? Such is going to be the pomp and circumstance which will surround his royal highness the Prince of Wales after June 23, when he reaches his eighteenth birthday and his legal majority.

An ordinary Englishman reaches legal age when he becomes twenty-one. Before that time he is an infant in the eyes of the law, but not so with the Prince of Wales, eldest son of the sovereign. When he becomes eighteen he becomes a man, with all an ordinary man's rights and privileges and with a great many others that go with his exalted station.

Among the important rights which go with the attainment of legal age by the Prince of Wales is the ability to ascend the throne and govern without the aid of a regent in the case of the king's death. Also, in case of the sovereign's dire misfortune or prolonged absence the Prince of Wales may at any time after June 23 act in his father's place.

At present Edward, Albert, prince of Wales, resides in France, whither he was sent by his father a few months ago to acquire knowledge of the French people, language and customs. King George is desirous of cultivating the friendship of the French.

So King George and Queen Mary sent their son to the Marquis de Broc, a member of the ancient French aristocracy and a very close friend of King Edward. The marquis has an American wife. For months the prince has been there, and he has been studying French life, inspecting the army and the navy. He is a sailor prince by training, like his father, and takes a keen interest in all things naval. After the celebration of his birthday in England, it was announced recently, he will return to Paris. In August he will return to England to remain permanently, beginning then his course in Oxford university.

The prince is a tall, slender, unassuming sort of person, with a thoroughly English love of sports. He dresses well, of course, but recently created a sensation in Paris by appearing in public with only the top button of his coat fastened. Immediately the leaders of fashion decided that a new mode was coming in, and little button-holes became the rage. But, alas, the next day the prince buttoned up his coat and the new fashion died.

Prince Edward, born June 23, is the eldest of the six children of King George and Queen Mary. There are five sons and one daughter. The latter is known officially as Princess Victoria Alexandra Alice Mary, but by the British public and the world in general she is called Princess Mary. She is only a young girl of fifteen, but there are already surmises concerning her matrimonial future. She will have considerable to say about that when the time comes, for she is a young lady with a will of her own.

The photograph of her riding a bicycle is one of the latest made. She is fond of bicycling, angling and other forms of outdoor sport, taking after her father in this respect rather than her mother. From the latter she inherits a taste for domestic occupations.

The princess is tall for her age and will be taller still, it is expected. She is no handsome or beautiful, as are her cousins, the two Connaught princesses, Patricia and Crown Princess Margaret of Sweden, but she has a fair face, light hair and eyes and is not unattractive.

ENJOYABLE TIME AT LAWN PARTY

In Aid of St. Margaret's Parish

The children's entertainment in connection with the lawn party of St. Margaret's parish, which will be held at the Casino tonight, was held this afternoon. The attendance was very large and all had a great time. The grounds were beautifully decorated for the affair and the weather conditions were "just what the doctor ordered."

Long before the announced time for the first number on the program many children and their parents gathered at the popular resort and looked the place over. At 4 o'clock a dance drill by the children, under the direction of Miss Perrin was given and it proved a grand feature. A grand list of sports was carried out in which the boys and girls of the party participated. Suitable prizes were awarded the winners. During the entire afternoon general dancing was enjoyed.

The different tables located around the grounds, and presided over by the committees of the parish, did a thriving business during the day. Tonight the adults will hold forth and a large attendance is anticipated.

DRIVERS PLEASED THAT WORK ON SCHOOL ST. CROSSING IS FINISHED

The many teamsters who have occasion to pass along School street are elated over the great improvement resulting from the completion of the bridge. The work on this bridge was in progress for some time and to those who passed there daily the progress seemed very slow. Now that everything is finished the cut through the street, proves a great time saver to teamsters who during its construction were obliged to take the longest way round. The bridge is one of the longest grade crossings in these parts and is an excellent piece of work. All the contractors who worked on it are greatly satisfied with the work done and they have received congratulations from all who had an opportunity to watch the erection of the bridge.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL GRANTED PETITIONS

Brief Session Was Held This Afternoon

The meeting of the municipal council was held this afternoon at 2:20 o'clock with Mayor O'Donnell in the chair. All the members of the council were present with the exception of Commissioner Barrett.

The first business to come before the meeting was a number of hearings on the petitions of Boyden Pillsbury, M. D., Freeman B. Shedd and Eugene G. Russell, to keep and store gasoline. As there was no remonstrance the petitions were all granted.

The order to borrow $25,000 and appropriate the same to erect a city stable was adopted.

The petitions of Ernest G. Livingston and D. J. McKenna to keep and store gasoline were referred to the commissioner of licenses.

The order recommending that a permit be granted to the Bay State Street Railway Co. to relocate five poles in Perkins street, was adopted. The petition of the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co. for four pole locations in Floyd street was referred to a hearing to be held on July 2. Other petitions from the same company to attach its wires to poles of the Lowell Electric Light Corp. were referred to the commissioner of public buildings, as well as that of George B. Tanner for a light at the corner of Wood avenue and Orchard street.

Additional orders recommending the granting of petitions for the same company to attach its wires on poles of other companies were also adopted.

A communication from the Middlesex Women's club relative to a food fair to be held at the armory and in which the members of the club asked the approval of the council, was read and it was voted to approve the movement.

Another communication from Bennett Silverblatt in behalf of Israel Greenberg, relative to the building by the city of a retaining wall in Leverett street, was read and it was voted to leave the matter on the table until the council take a view of the premises. The meeting adjourned at 2:45 o'clock until this evening at which time hearings will be held on pole locations and other matters.

NAME OF PARKER FREQUENTLY HEARD

For Chairman of the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore

BALTIMORE, June 18.—Judge Alston Parker was strongly indicated today as the choice of the arrangements committee for temporary chairman of the democratic national convention. Those members of the committee now here were agreed that the former presidential candidate was neutral in "his attitude toward all candidates for presidential nomination and that he possessed all the qualifications as a presiding officer."

Democratic leaders and national committeemen laid aside their pre-convention labors today and looked toward the west for news from Chicago.

"Much depends upon what is done at the republican convention as to the course we will take in naming our ticket and building the democratic platform," said National Committeeman Wade of Iowa today.

Should the democratic convention become deadlocked friends in the Middle West of Gov. Burke of North Dakota are to put him forward for presidential honors.

COL. ROOSEVELT FLAYS TAFT AND SOUNDS THE BATTLE CRY THOUSANDS CHEER EX-PRESIDENT

CHICAGO, June 18.—On the eve of the republican national convention Col. Roosevelt last night disclosed the line of attack which he will make. He laid down two principles. He said that the delegates whose selection he contests must not vote in the organization of the convention or upon the settlement of the contest, and made it clear that he would resist it. He declared that no action of the convention based upon the votes of these "fraudulent delegates" would be binding upon the republican party.

It was at the Roosevelt rally in the Auditorium that the ex-president made his challenge. He was facing a cheering throng which jammed the huge building as tightly as the fire marshal would permit.

Reaching far to the rear, to the last line of seats, and to the top of the topmost balcony were solid rows of men and women; delegates from every part of the country, Roosevelt leaders and a host of private in the Roosevelt army.

They gave the ex-president a mighty welcome.

Col. Roosevelt made a fighting speech. His hearers were in fighting mood. They cheered him on as he denounced his opponents and shouted to him: "Go at 'em, Teddy!" "Knock out the steam roller!" "Hit 'em, again!"

Long before Roosevelt reached the Auditorium every seat was taken. Outside the building were thousands who were unable to gain admission. Two hundred policemen held them back.

Given Four-Minute Ovation

Senator Borah made a speech while the crowd was waiting for Col. Roosevelt. His remarks were brought to an untimely end when the people leaped to their feet with a yell. The colonel had come.

It was nearly four minutes later when the uproarious welcome subsided. The colonel stood on the platform, waved his hands and smiled.

Col. Roosevelt was constantly interrupted during his speech with storms of applause. He frequently departed from his prepared notes for an extemporaneous thrust which brought the people to their feet, shouting and waving the flags which were handed to each person on entering the hall.

"I made my fight square and fair in the open and I won," he said. "I don't intend that my opponents shall cheat me out of it."

Defines National Committee

maining 20 sure-thing men."

Col. Roosevelt began to call the roll of some of his most prominent opponents. At the first he mentioned a groan came from the crowd. With the next name the groan became a roar.

To preserve peace the colonel gave up his roll-call. He said that his chief opponents on the national committee were men who had been repudiated in their own states.

Declares War Amid Cheers

"It is bad enough," he complained, "to have the victory stolen by the bosses that are living, but it is an outrage to have it stolen by bosses that are among the buried dead."

When Col. Roosevelt said that any action of the convention, if brought about by the votes of delegates fraudulently seated, would not be binding upon the party, there came the wildest outburst of applause of the evening.

The crowd leaped up with a shout and refused to be quieted despite the colonel's attempt to continue.

"If they ask for the sword," said he, "when at last he could make himself heard, 'they shall have it.'"

Colonel Roosevelt's Speech

Col. Roosevelt spoke in part as follows:

My Friends and Fellow Citizens:

I address you as my fellow republicans, but I also and primarily address you as fellow Americans, fellow-citizens, for this has now become much more than an ordinary party fight. The issue is both simpler and larger than that involved in the personality of any man, or than that involved in any faction or in any ordinary party contest. We are standing for the great fundamental rights upon which all successful free government must be based. We are standing for elementary decency in politics. We are fighting for honesty against naked robbery; and where robbery is concerned the all-important question is not the identity of the man robbed, but the crime itself.

As far as Mr. Taft and I are personally concerned I little matters what the fate of either may be. But with Mr. Taft's acquiescence or by his direction, and in his interest, his followers have raised an issue which is all important to this country. It is not a partisan issue; it is more than a political issue; it is a great moral issue. If we condone political theft, if we do not resent the kinds of wrong and injustice that injuriously affect the whole nation, not merely our democratic form of government but our civilization itself can not endure. If the methods adopted by the national committee are approved by the convention which is about to assemble, a great crime will have been committed. The triumph of such proceedings at the moment would mean the wreck of the republican party; and if such proceedings become habitual, it would mean the wreck of popular government. The action of the Taft leaders in the national committee, taken with the active aid of Mr. Taft's private secretary and of one of Mr. Taft's cabinet officers, are monstrous and they should be indignantly condemned by the moral sentiment of the whole country.

Calls it a Crime

Tonight we come together to protest against a crime which strikes straight at the heart of every principle of political decency and honesty, a crime which represents treason to the people, and the usurpation of the sovereignty of the people by irresponsible political bosses, inspired by the sinister influences of moneyed privilege. We here in this hall are engaged not only in a fight for the rights of every decent republican, we are engaged in a fight for the rights of every decent American whatsoever his party may be. And, Oh, my friends, for one thing at least, we should be profoundly grateful. We are more fortunate than our fathers in that there is no slightest tinge of sectionalism in the fight we are now waging. The principles for which we stand are as vital for the south as for the north, for the east as for the west. We make our appeal to all honest, far-sighted and patriotic Americans, no matter where they may dwell.

Abandoned People's Cause

When in February last I made up my mind that it was my duty to enter this fight, it was after long and careful deliberation. I had become convinced that Mr. Taft had definitely and completely abandoned the cause of the people and had surrendered himself wholly to the bidding of the professional political bosses and of the great privileged interests standing behind them. I had also become convinced that unless I did make the fight it could not be made at all, and that Mr. Taft's nomination would come to him without serious opposition. The event has justified both my beliefs. I very earnestly ask our fellow progressives who have supported other candidates to remember that one of the cardinal principles of the doctrines which we hold in common is our duty normally, loyally and in good faith to abide by the well thought out and honestly expressed action of a majority. The overwhelming majority of the republican progressives have declared for me. It has become clear beyond the shadow of a doubt that if I had not made the progressive fight it would have completely broken down, and there would have been no substantial opposition to the forces of reaction and political crookedness. Let those progressives who stand for principle and who are concerned with the fortunes of any particular man only as a means for securing the triumph of principle, ponder these facts and refrain in this crisis from playing into the hands of our enemies.

In Hands of Bosses

Mr. Taft at first denied that he represented the bosses. His denial was of little consequence for his deeds belied his words. But I doubt if at present he would venture to repeat the denial. As it has become constantly more and more evident that the people are against him, he has more and more undisguisedly thrown himself into the arms of the bosses. Here in Chicago at this moment he has never had one chance of success save what was given him by the actions of Messrs. Crane, Barnes, Brooker, Penrose, Murphy, Guggenheim, Mulvane, Snoot, New and their associates in cheating the people out of their rights. He has been so overtaken by the people themselves in the states where primaries were held, that in the last state in which he spoke, in New Jersey, he permitted himself to be betrayed into the frank admission that he expected to be nominated because he believed the national committee would stand by him. One member of his own cabinet, representing a state that has just repudiated him, has been working hand in glove with the other Taft members of the national committee, under the lead of Mr. Crane of Massachusetts, Mr. Penrose of Pennsylvania, of Mr. Mulvane of Kansas, of Mr. Murphy of New Jersey and Mr. Scott of West Virginia—all of whom have just been repudiated by their own states—to steal from the people the victory which the people have won. Last February it was evident that Mr. Taft was the accepted representative of the bosses, of the men who uphold the combination of crooked politics and crooked business which has been the chief source not only of our political but of our social and industrial corruption. It has now, alas, become evident that Mr. Taft is willing to acquiesce in and to condone and to accept the fruits of any course of action on which these men embark, even though such action represent treason, as well as destruction, to the republican party to which they nominally belong, and also treason to the cause of the American people as a whole.

We who in this contest are fighting for the rights of the plain people, we who are fighting for the right of the people to rule themselves need offer no better proof of the fact that we are fighting for all citizens, no matter what their politics, than that which are afforded by the action of that portion of the press which is controlled by privilege by the great special interests in business. Newspapers of this type are found in every part of the country in San Francisco, in Cincinnati, in Chicago and St. Louis, in Boston and Philadelphia. But they are strongest in New York. Some of these newspapers are nominally democratic, some nominally republican, some nominally independent. But in reality they are true only to the vested or fancied interests of the great capitalist class by certain of whose members they are controlled. Sometimes the interests of this capitalist class are identical with those of the country as a whole and in that case these papers serve the interests of the commonwealth. Sometimes the interests of the capitalist class are against the interests of the people as a whole and in that case these papers are hostile to the interests of the commonwealth. But neither their acting favorably to nor their acting adversely to the interests of the commonwealth is anything more than an incident to their support of the interests which they are bound. The great and far-reaching evil of their action is that they choke and foul the only channels of information open to so many honest and well-meaning citizens. The most prominent representatives of these papers in New York and Massachusetts supported Mr. Parker against me in 1904. Mr. Parker was a democrat, but he was entirely satisfied only to the masters and for the time being they ardently did all they could to overthrow the republican party and to elect a democratic president. But when I began to be seriously talked about for the republican nomination this year, these papers one and all turned republican to the extent of becoming my furious opponents and the fiercest enemies of Mr. Taft. There is an element of pure comedy in reading in these papers continual lamentations about the likelihood of my candidacy breaking up the republican party. They themselves did all they could to beat the republican party when they thought they could elect Mr. Parker. Now these papers would eagerly champion the republican party if they could keep Mr. Taft as his nominal president. In the past they have not concealed their contempt for Mr. Taft and none of them regard him in any way as a leader.

The Real Difference

The difference between us and our present day opponents is as old as civilized history. In every great crisis of the kind we face today, we find arrayed on one side the men who with fervor and broad sympathy and lofty idealism stand for the forward movement of the people, and on the other side the men who stand for the up-keep and betterment of mankind, and who have faith in the people and over against them the men of restricted vision and contracted sympathy, whose souls are not stirred by the wrongs of others. Side by side with the latter appear the other men who lack all intensity of conviction, who care only for the pleasure of the day; and also these other men who distrust the people, who if dishonest wish to keep the people helpless so as to exploit them, and who if honest so disbelieve in the power of the people to bring about wholesome reform that every appeal to popular conscience and popular justice fills them with angry terror. According to their own lights, these men are often very respectable, very worthy. But they live on a plane of low ideals. In the atmosphere they create, imposture flourishes and leadership comes to be thought of only as success in making money, and the vision of heaven becomes a sordid vision, and all that is high and pure in human nature is laughed at, and honesty is bought and sold in the market place.

Opposed undyingly to these men are the men of faith and vision, the men in whom love of righteousness burns like a flaming fire, who spurn lives of soft and selfish ease, of slothful self-indulgence, who scorn to think only of pleasure for themselves, who feel for and believe in their fellows, whose high fealty is reserved for all that is good, that is just, that is honorable.

By their very nature, these men are bound to battle for the truth and the right. They do not address themselves only to the cultured and executive few. They prize character even more than intellect. They know well that conscience is not the privilege merely of the men of wealth and cultivation, and they make their appeal to all men alike in the name of the great fundamental qualities and qualities that every man should have, the qualities of generosity and unselfishness, of fearless honesty and high courage.

"We who war against privilege pay heed to no outworn system of philosophy. We demand of leaders today understanding of and sympathies with the living and the vital needs of those in the community whose needs are greatest. We are against privilege in every form, we believe in striking down every bulwark of privilege. Above all we are against the evil alliance of special privilege in business with special business in politics. We believe in giving the people a free hand to work in efficient fashion for true justice. To the big man and to the little man, in all the relations of life, we pledge justice and fair dealing. A period of changes is upon us. Our opponents, the men of reaction, ask us to stand still, but we could not stand still if we would. We must either go forward or go backward. Never was the need more imperative than now for men of vision, who are also men of action. Disaster is ahead of us if we trust to the leadership of men whose souls are seared and whose eyes are blinded, men of cold heart and narrow mind, who believe we can find safety in dull timidity and inaction."

GIVEN BY YOUNGER GIRLS OF THE HIGHLANDS

Some of the younger girls of the Highlands gave an enjoyable entertainment Saturday afternoon in the hall-room of the Coram house on Marlborough street for the benefit of country work. A little play, "Pansy's May Party" was given and there were also refreshment booths.

Those who took part in this entertainment were as follows: Misses Katherine and Elizabeth Gooden, Louise Harrigan, Dorothy and Eleanor Burroughs, Mary and Ellen McEvoy, Margaret Weed, Marie and Margaret Reynolds, Mildred McGregor, Emily and Arline Pratt, Gladys Slocom, Marion Harkins, Ruth and Norma McKeazle, Dorothy Whately, Marion Gibbons and Nancy Hawley. They were assisted by Mrs. William Work, the present occupant of the Coram estate.

"Now They Are Soft and Smooth"

"My hands were simply terrible! All red, rough and wrinkled."

"All because I used the wrong laundry soap."

"I certainly have learned the difference in soaps now. I won't use anything but 'Welcome.'"

"There is just enough Borax used in Welcome Soap—more than in all other soaps made in New England put together. Borax softens the water, is a wonderful cleanser, and is splendid for the hands."

"I suppose, too, that's why my clothes look so white and beautiful. I didn't know what clothes whiteness was until I used 'Welcome.'"

"I get my wash out earlier nowadays than I ever did before."

"Your grocer sells it, for twice as much 'Welcome' is used in New England as any other."

"Your hands will become white and soft. Your washing will be done better with less work. It costs but 5c. At your grocer's."

EDITOR WAS FOUND DEAD AFTER A FIRE AT HOME

He Was Sole Occupant of New Residence He Had Just Acquired

NEW YORK, June 18.—A. D. Howard, a widely known newspaper man, was burned to death early yesterday morning, in a fire which destroyed his beautiful residence in Broad avenue, Leonia, N. J.

The fact that Mr. Howard had met his death in the fire did not become known until many hours later, when his absence from the office of the Englewood Press, of which he was editor, was noted.

Previous to taking up the publication of the Englewood Press, Mr. Howard had been Sunday editor of the New York Tribune. About six weeks ago he went to Englewood to assume the editorship of the paper there. He also purchased a house on Leonia, and had just commenced to furnish it. Occasionally he slept there, but frequently he returned to his home on Riverside Drive. Sunday evening he was seen in Leonia by Joseph Rafferty, a friend, with whom he rode from Englewood to Leonia.

About half-past 3 o'clock yesterday morning A. H. Stahmann, a watchman, discovered the Howard house in flames. He notified Edward Collins, who lived directly opposite. Mr. Collins pounded on the front door of the Howard house, and then, getting no response, smashed it in. The interior of the house was like a furnace, and he was driven back. Just as the firemen arrived an explosion was heard in the cellar, the force of which sent flames throughout the building. Inquiries were at once made as to Mr. Howard's whereabouts, and not being found it was believed that he had gone to New York.

Later in the day when he did not make his appearance at the office, his employees commenced a search in the wrecked house. About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon his charred body was found in his bedroom, buried beneath a pile of wreckage.

The house was almost totally destroyed by the fire. The loss will amount to close on $10,000.

MABEL HITE, ACTRESS, WAS STRICKEN WITH APPENDICITIS

NEW YORK, June 18.—Mabel Hite, the actress who was operated on for appendicitis a week ago, is not likely to recover, according to a statement from her physicians today. The statement says that "very little hope is held for her recovery, as peritonitis set in late yesterday."

Miss Hite is Mrs. Mike Donlin, wife of the famous ball player, in private life. The attack of appendicitis was very sudden, as she appeared on the stage in vaudeville on Monday of last week.

Dr. Snedden's Address

Dr. David Snedden, commissioner of education, Boston, was the principal speaker. He spoke in part as follows:

"We feel a warm interest in our commencement, and I think our interest is keenest in the commencement which are held for those about to take up some vocation. In the home and in the school life is largely planned and ordered for one; but in the beginnings of a vocation the young worker has herself to assume large responsibilities. As our American education is organized, the youngest and most inexperienced teachers have in some ways to assume the largest responsibilities. Many of the graduates here will next autumn find themselves in schools where they will have little immediate help from superintendents and principals and where they will be obliged to face their problems by themselves. But our interest in today's graduates is the greater, because we realize that all, or nearly all, are going to meet their responsibilities in country and village schools with a considerable degree of success, and we are assured that those who render the most valuable service as teachers will grow strong and wholesome through their service. Men and women are shaped partly by home and by school, but the finer qualities demanded by civilization are also produced in large measure by the spirit and effectiveness with which one's vocation is followed. Outside the making of the home, teaching is the most important calling undertaken by women. In America, we have allowed women almost a monopoly of that profession. Probably over 75 per cent of American boys and girls never have a male teacher. None of us can wholly approve this condition of affairs, but such a condition will prevail until public opinion as to school changes in some substantial way. Of the half million teachers in the public schools of America over 400,000 are women; and on them rests in large measure the development of better methods and materials in and for their work. Teachers no less than men and women in other callings can be divided into classes. There are those who do their work from day to day with little interest and with little hope, slaves to a treadmill routine and kept to their tasks mainly by fear of want. There are others—and we have, fortunately, all known them—who find in their position a field for the most sustained pleasure that life has to offer, because in their work they bring themselves most closely in touch with the large and significant things of country, society, and the universe. The live teacher, as much certainly, as any other worker, is a creative worker, a possible artist; but the teacher who merely holds a job is one of the least admirable of all the drudges of civilization. We hear sometimes said that teachers are born and not made. It is a flat statement this is not true; it is a fact, of course, that some persons are more highly endowed with certain gifts of sympathy, intuitive understanding and interest in childhood, than others; but all persons possess in some degree the teaching or guiding instinct and only perverted spirits do not find themselves wise and eager to help childhood in its growth. I believe that all young teachers are capable of directing and controlling their own development in the direction of live and growing efficiency as they are capable of preserving and improving their bodily health. That they do not more often do so is no more proof that it cannot be done than is the prevalence of ill-health proof that a large percentage of our population must unavoidably be subject to early decay and death. Many teachers allow bad professional habits to overtake them early. They fall into fixed ways of doing their work, of living and of diverting themselves; they lose their interest in their own professional growth, and rapidly

He Was Captured by Patrolmen Patrick and Michael Connolly After He Made Break

Thomas Morrison, an elderly man of respectable appearance, but a self-confessed crook, who has served several terms in the state prison in this state and Rhode Island, who broke into the residence of William E. Hall, treasurer of the Shaw Stocking Co., at the corner of Wilder and Princeton streets, during the early part of last week and was subsequently captured in Lincoln square by Patrolmen Patrick and Michael Connolly early last Tuesday morning, was brought before the police court this morning and after changing his plea from that of not guilty to guilty, Judge John J. Pickman found probable cause of guilt and held the man under $700 bonds for his appearance before the grand jury.

According to the police, Morrison, or whatever his true name is, he having traveled under various aliases, is a bad man and in all probability the police of other cities are looking for him.

When the man was arraigned in police court last Tuesday morning he was charged with breaking and entering the residence of William E. Hall in the night of the 10th inst. and with the carrying of a dangerous weapon, a pair of scissors, each of the value of $1.25; three forks, each of the value of $1.25; 113 locks valued at 25 cents each; one watch valued at $2.50; a pair of glasses valued at $3; a pair of scissors valued at 15 cents; a coat worth $10, and an umbrella worth 50 cents.

As the man was passing through Lincoln square early last Tuesday morning the attention of Patrolmen Patrick Connolly was attracted to him. There were many people going along the state at the time presumably with the intention of seeing the circus being unloaded from the cars, but the actions of Morrison caused the patrolman to question him. While the man was being questioned, Patrolman Michael Connolly, a brother of the other officer, appeared on the scene, and the man was put through a rigid cross-examination. His answers were very unsatisfactory and it was decided to send the man to the police station as a suspicious character.

Upon arriving at the police station he was searched and it was found that he had considerable silverware on his

Man Who Assaulted Wife Must Serve Time—Other Cases Heard in Police Court

Thomas Rondan was arraigned before Judge Pickman in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with feloniously breaking and entering the storehouse of Frank L. and Alvah H. Weaver, at 810 Middlesex street and the larceny therefrom of 25 pounds of sheet metal.

Mr. Alvah H. Weaver was the only witness for the government. He said that the man had worked for the company up to about ten days ago. Last Friday night it was found that one of the windows in the storehouse had been broken and one of the employees boarded it up. The following morning it was found that the board had been ripped away and the copper was missing.

The man offered no defense other than he was drunk at the time. He was sentenced to four months in jail.

LOST HIS LIFE

NEWSBOY WAS VICTIM AT SHOOTING GALLERY

PITTSFIELD, June 18.—Thomas Coakley, a newsboy, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Coakley of Wellington avenue, was shot in the left eye by a 22-caliber bullet in a rifle gallery at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and died five minutes later.

Michael Inverso, an Italian boy of 16 years, was locked up at the police station as a witness. Inverso says he called the Coakley boy into the shooting gallery and Coakley wanted to shoot at targets. Without the consent of Inverso, it is claimed, the newsboy reached for a rifle in the rack and as he pulled it toward him the single cartridge in the rifle exploded.

Inverso was employed at the gallery to clean up the place and care for the guns. He knew the Coakley boy well and the police believe the story of the Italian lad, but they want to have the authorities question him before he is released.

David Coakley, father of the dead boy, called at the police station tonight and told the officers that the shooting was an accident. He said he knew Inverso and that the boys had played together at school and had worked together delivering papers.

Young Coakley was a pupil in the seventh grade at the Moore School.

The Filene Co-operative association, consisting of the employees of the Filene store in Boston, held a field day at Canobie Lake park yesterday afternoon, attended by 1000 persons. They arrived by a special train from Boston and special trolleys from Methuen. A. L. Filene, T. K. Curry and J. H. Simpson, of the managerial forces came with automobile parties. A luncheon was served.

A ball game was played between a team of girls captained by Miss Anna Sullivan, and one of men, dressed in red skirts, green hose and blazer coats. A tennis ball was used. The girls battled with rackets and the men, who were captained by Jip O'Neil, slugged out the ball with broom handles. The girls won, 4 to 2.

After lunch a ball game was played between the Whangdingers, captained by James Livingston, and the Hinkydinks, captained by George Goldie. The Whangdingers won 11 to 6. The score:

Continued

POLICEMEN AT EVERY CORNER, DOOR AND AISLE OF HALL

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, June 18.—Policemen at every corner, at every door and in every aisle were the distinguishing feature of the scene at the Coliseum in the early hours before the doors were opened to ticket-holders.

The nervous tension due to general expectation of tumultuous scenes "from the drop of the hat" at the opening of the republican convention was very apparent on all sides. The police were as nervous as anybody else. It was difficult even for people with proper tickets, including newspapermen, to get into the hall. Assistant sergeants at arms, doorkeepers, ushers and other subordinate officials were so keenly alive to the possibilities that their hands trembled as they took tickets and ushers showed people to their seats with furtive glances about them, as if there was something explosive just under their feet.

Along the front row, between the delegate seats and the platform, a solid row of uniformed police as early as 9:30 a. m. was waiting for anybody who knew what.

Last touches by the carpenters mingled with an oblique hammer and a buzz of conversation, forerunners of the heavier hammering promised when the convention began.

Five minutes later a thin procession of men in plain clothes came in at one of the entrances. Assistant sergeants-at-arms and the police pounced upon them as if they were a hostile army. William F. Stone, sergeant-at-arms, had his assistants quickly ordered out of the aisles and seats.

MISSING FOR FIRST TIME IN HISTORY OF CONVENTIONS

CHICAGO, June 18, Convention Hall.—For the first time in the history of republican national conventions no picture of the president hangs in the Coliseum, where today 1978 delegates from the states and territories of the United States met to name a candidate for president and vice president and to formulate a party platform.

Rough ironwork, arching overhead, is hidden beneath red, white and blue bunting and the galleries are marked by lines of mountain laurel draped about tri-colored shields and flags except over the main entrance, where a velvet rug of purple mark the box of Chairman Frederick Upham of the local committee on arrangements and his Chicago aides.

The chairman's table, bearing a brass plate inscribed to inform all that the table was occupied by the chairman four years ago when William Howard Taft was nominated, stands about a third of the way from the south end of the rectangular hall, on a dais. Back of it are the seats of the national committee and the space for the "workers" and those who helped to france the gathering. At its side are grouped 500 seats for newspapermen, where every word may be heard distinctly and ticked away to 30,000,000 Americans and many times more persons of other lands who will be awaiting the message of the men at the keys. In a basement, in addition, the newspapermen have great spacious rooms where a hundred telegraph operators and reporters may work for each association or paper and adjust the 200 operators of the telegraph companies attended by 500 messenger boys will be ready to add to the news reports or convey other information abroad.

EARLY ARRIVAL

ASSOCIATE PARLIAMENTARIAN WAS ON TIME

CHICAGO, June 18.—E. J. Lamson of Ohio, the veteran reading clerk of the national house of representatives and associate parliamentarian for the convention was at his place by the speaker's table an hour and a half before the time for opening business. Besides him was a stack of books on parliamentary law.

Long before the noon hour, the two official stenographers were in front of the platform familiarizing themselves with the position of delegates. Milton Blumenshine of the United States senate and Fred Ireland, dean of the reporters force in the house of representatives, were the two men trained by long experience depended upon to furnish the verbatim report of the great convention's work.

FIRST APPLAUSE

GREETED THE ARRIVAL OF VICE PRESIDENT FAIRBANKS

CONVENTION HALL, June 18.—The first real applause came at 11:30 for former Vice President Fairbanks, who entered with former Senator Hemenway and former Rep. James E. Watson of Indiana.

Watson was chosen last night as Taft floor leader. He entered the place for the Indiana delegation, stopping to shake hands with Senator Guggerheim of Colorado. The cheering followed him all the way to the last seat in the Indiana section; Watson and others made him take the first seat. Fairbanks' new seat made him one of the most commanding positions in the hall, directly in front of the runway extending from the platform.

Kearl Roosevelt had a hard time to find a seat. He got caught in the crowd between Idaho and Maine. Col. New and Mr. Fairbanks immediately got together in conference on the floor.

California came in at 11:32. The two women in the delegation were roundly applauded.

BATTLE LINES

ON BOTH SIDES APPARENTLY HOLDING FIRM

CHICAGO, June 18.—Warring Taft and Roosevelt forces gathered at the Coliseum today for the opening of the 15th republican national convention with battle lines on both sides apparently holding firm and with leaders and delegates predicting that the session would mark an epoch in the annals of the American politics.

Rarely have the principals in a national political convention got under greater stress of feeling than that which prevailed today. The atmosphere was electric with bitterness and personal animosity.

Thousands of people who were unable to obtain seats at the convention thronged lobbies and the immediate vicinity of the Coliseum with the idea that some sensation might develop in the big hall at any moment. Many political veterans said it was the worst crash of humanity in their convention experiences.

Taft's Plans

President Taft's managers concluded their plans for the fight on the floor of the convention on the assumption that the temporary roll as prepared by the national committee would show a Taft majority by a small margin. Also they assumed that the temporary roll of the committee would become the temporary roll of the convention.

Col. Roosevelt and his advisers, evidently familiar with the Taft figures, evolved an eleven-hour scheme for reducing this small Taft majority by means of an arrangement to eliminate from the poll on temporary organization those votes which are challenged by Col. Roosevelt.

This scheme, fathered by the Illinois delegation and ratified at a meeting of the Roosevelt delegates this morning was embodied in the following resolution which was addressed to the body of the convention:

"Resolved, that no election of temporary or other officers of this convention or resolution or other proceeding shall be taken as the act of the convention or have any effect unless it shall receive on a roll call the affirmative votes of 510 delegates whose seats are uncontested. And this resolution shall govern and be in force during the temporary organization of this convention and until the permanent organization thereof shall have been effected."

Roosevelt Men Active

Every possible effort was made by the Roosevelt managers to have the Taft leaders agree to abide by this proposal. Illinois friends of Congressman McKinley, President Taft's campaign manager, sought to have him agree to the plan. Gov. Deneen, Lawrence V. Sherman, State Senator Lawrence Hay of Springfield and Thomas Healy of Chicago were among those who threw their personal influence into the balance in attempts to have Mr. McKinley accept the arrangement.

Taft leaders pointed out that the plan was in direct opposition to the rules governing the national committee and long established procedure in the temporary organization of republican conventions. The proposed innovation met with little encouragement at the hands of a majority of the members of the national committee. The more moderate members of the Roosevelt organization counseled against the resolution. They declared that attempts to secure its adoption would precipitate a decisive fight at once.

They said that they did not believe revolutionary proceedings in connection with the temporary organization of a convention could be justified; that the temporary organization is not the convention but merely the gateway.

In this connection a hard fight of protest was urged on every point with the idea of preparing a case for presentation to the country in conjunction with whatever line of action is found feasible at a stage further along.

GOV. McGOVERN

CHICAGO, June 18.—Senator Borah announced an hour before the convention assembled that Gov. McGovern of Wisconsin and not himself would be the Roosevelt candidate for temporary chairman. This decision was reached at a conference which Col. Roosevelt had with his leaders before they left for the Coliseum.

LA FOLLETTE MEN

COMPLETED THEIR PLATFORM LAST NIGHT

CHICAGO, June 18.—The La Follette platform was completed last night and is being carefully guarded. The La Follette managers are fearful that features of the document might be stolen by opposing platform builders if the contents were made known before the platform of Roosevelt and President Taft are public property. The platform was prepared by Prof. C. F. McCarthy, head of the Wisconsin reference library, Prof. John R. Commons of the University of Wisconsin, and Senator Walter Owens.

TO BE ON DUTY AT REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 18.—A detail of five hundred policemen were given final instructions by Assistant Chief Schueller last night regarding their duties for the convention. Among other things the men were told:

"You shall allow no one to pass your lines or to enter the Coliseum unless he has the official ticket. No member of the department must attempt to obtain admission for his friends or relatives unless they have tickets and no one of you must enter the hall unless your are detailed to do so.

Detectives from Chicago and other cities were assigned to go through the crowds in search for pickpockets. Dozens of known thieves are already locked up in city police stations and the number is hourly being added to by the force of 100 or more plain clothes men.

CROWD INTO CHICAGO FOR THE CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 18.—The number of visitors to Chicago for the convention was estimated last night to be well above 150,000. Every hotel in the downtown district was crowded to its capacity and late crowds were directed to outlying hostilities. Early today with not more than ten exceptions the full list of delegates and alternates had been accounted for.

The various state delegations accompanying friends filled the hotel corridors and there with the throngs of sightseers crowded the hotel corridors and street corners long after midnight. Everywhere there was an air of excitement and expectancy over the first day's proceedings and the general opinion prevailed that the stage was set for the most interesting convention of the kind within the memory of most of those who had come to attend it.

BAY STATE MAN

WAS TAKEN BY CROWD FOR ROOSEVELT

CHICAGO, June 18.—J. M. Keyes, delegate from Massachusetts, is a double for Mr. Roosevelt, and the fact was the cause for considerable excitement last night in a Michigan avenue hotel cafe. The delegate was enjoying his dinner when there was a stampede toward him of persons who thought they were gazing on the ex-president. It was necessary to get a detail of bluecoats to check the "crowds" who were about to rush the "candidate."

TWO REPUBLICANS

SAY THEY WERE OFFERED MONEY TO VOTE FOR ROOSEVELT

CHICAGO, June 18.—Another affidavit charging bribery by Roosevelt supporters was made public at Taft's headquarters last night.

The affidavit was executed by J. M. Schumert, a negro delegate from Mississippi. Mr. Banks, another Mississippi delegate, showed Schumert a big roll of bills and asked him how much he wanted to desert Taft for Roosevelt.

Banks is the negro delegate who a few days ago, wrote a letter to Director McKinley, of the Taft bureau, purporting to return to him "several hundred dollars," which he said he had received for "expenses of Mississippi delegates."

A similar affidavit, executed by A. Buckley, also a negro delegate from Mississippi, charges that Banks offered him $300 to "switch."

PLENTY OF MONEY

BEING BET ON THE RIVAL CANDIDATES

CHICAGO, June 18.—Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars has been placed in bets in this city on the result of the republican convention.

This was the estimate of a well-known gambler of the city yesterday who has handled nearly $50,000 in wagers from easteners. Although odds in some cases have been given that

Colonel Roosevelt's Reception in Chicago Was Very Gratifying to His Many Friends

CHICAGO, June 18.—The arrival of Col. Roosevelt in Chicago was dramatic, and the enthusiastic reception that he received was extremely gratifying to his friends. He was nearly mobbed before he reached his hotel, and he was almost immediately compelled to make a speech from the hotel balcony. His opponents were discomfited by the enthusiasm shown for the former president.

MAN'S MEMORY IS GONE AND HE IS VOICELESS ALSO

SPRING LAKE, N. J., June 18.—"Billie," a grown man, sits propped up in a cot in the Ann May Memorial hospital here, a mystery to all physicians and surgeons and unable to tell who he is or where he came from—a man of education and refinement, with a loss of memory. He has been dubbed "Billie" for lack of another name.

The patient cannot speak, although apparently there is nothing wrong with his vocal organs. He writes answers to all questions, but can remember nothing of the past. Physically, he is in good condition; mentally, he is a child when it comes to thinking of the past.

He has been in the hospital since June 4, and scores of persons have journeyed miles to see if they could identify him. He has been asked time after time to tell something about himself, but with the aid of his pencil and paper he always answers that he does not know his name, age, address, relatives or the least thing about himself.

The patient was found on the road near Wreck Pond bridge at Sea Girt by Thomas H. Devlin. It was thought at first that he was suffering from a

ARRESTS FIANCE

MISS KOSTER CLAIMS SHARE OF WEDDING PRESENTS

NEW YORK, June 18.—Miss Anna Koster, of Hastings-on-Hudson, had her fiance, Andrew Singer, arrested yesterday for refusing to wed her after procuring a marriage license. At the last moment Singer sent word to Miss Koster that he didn't believe he loved her, after all, and was therefore, going to remain single.

Relatives and friends had sent them wedding presents, including household articles and sums of money. These were not returned. Instead Singer took half of the articles, but was a little more selfish in the disposition of the money. He kept it all to himself and refused to share it with his fiancee.

Miss Koster consulted an attorney, and upon his advice she went to Police Justice Hogan to obtain a warrant for Singer.

"Can't prosecute him for refusing to marry me?" she asked the justice. He informed her that her only redress in that direction lay in a civil action. When told of her being deprived of her share of the wedding money the justice gave her a warrant on the charge of larceny in the third degree.

Singer was arraigned and pleaded guilty. He said that he felt that the man was entitled to distribute the wedding presents as he saw fit. However, he consented to split the money with Miss Koster. He gave the justice $50 to turn over to her, so the complaint was dismissed.

PRESIDENT TAFT

GAVE DINNER TO SPEAKER FERRERA OF CUBAN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 18.—President Taft's dinner last night to Speaker Ferrera of the Cuban house of representatives is regarded by diplomats here as a further evidence of the intentions of this government to maintain its attitude of non-intervention in Cuba. The function was not extended to Speaker Cannon as an individual but was intended as a demonstration of kindly feelings of the United States toward the Cuban government. Former Speaker Cannon and many officials of this government attended. Officials in the house generally regard the Cuban situation as being under better control now and there is a possibility that the American warships may be withdrawn soon to continue their summer drills in northern waters. Their marines, of course, will be left for the protection of property.

FAMOUS DANCER GIVES COMPLEXION SECRETS

(Allene Moore in Beauty's Mirror) I've learned the secret of Dolores' entrancing beauty, the wondrous charm that has dazzled the courts of Europe and captivated vast audiences everywhere. The famous dancer adores roses and cosmetics. Yet, despite the strenuousness of her life, she retains the incomparable complexion best described as "indivisible." An intimate friend tells me the secret regularly used on her face is what Druggists know as marcolized wax. This is applied at night in the manner of cold cream. It absorbs the lead particles of skin which daily appear, and a fair, soft, fresh, girlish complexion is always in evidence.

Dolores' skin is not marred by a single wrinkle, not even the finest line. She wards these off by daily bathing the face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered salicylic acid in a half-pint witch hazel. As your drug stores keep these ingredients, as well as marcolized wax (one ounce of this is sufficient), submit your readers will welcome this information.

A NEW CHAPTER

ADDED TO THEODORE RYERSON, JR.'S, ROMANTIC CAREER

NEW YORK, June 18.—The romantic, but unfortunate, career of Theodore Addis Ryerson, Jr., has reached at last a happy climax of contentment according to his friends. For the young broker, who married Mrs. Helen M. Cook Walters, a beautiful Chicago widow, after she had obtained a verdict of $5,000 for breach of promise against him, is now a benedict for the second time, was married on Saturday in the home of his parents at New Brunswick, N. J., to Miss Ora M. Starr of Cambridge, N. Y.

Although his intimate friends knew of the ceremony it was a surprise to many of his acquaintances to learn that the first marriage had ended in divorce. To many the announcement of his second wedding was the first news of his separation from the former Mrs. Walters.

The decree was granted May 27. It is said that Mrs. Walters Ryerson has taken up the stage as a profession.

FIGHTING IN MEXICO EXPECTED SOON

Battle Close to American Border

JUAREZ, Mexico, June 18.—Distinct tension is manifest here today over the news of the latest government plans to capture this town and the city of Chihuahua, the only important rebel points.

The approach of big federal columns from the state of Sonora makes it obvious fighting will occur close to the American border within a few days.

That American officials are expecting an engagement is indicated by correspondence made public yesterday between Col. Steever, commander of the department of Texas, and Pascual Orozco, senior, father of the rebel commander-in-chief, and head of the Juarez garrison. Col. Steever cautions the rebel commander that in case of an encounter at Juarez "you must so conduct operations as not to bring any part of the territory of the United States under fire." Col. Orozco agreed to meet the conditions imposed by Col. Steever but without promising to do so in case the American authorities sanction the passing to this side of the Maderista troops which are being recruited in El Paso.

Every Building in the Village of Jacksonville, Pa., Was Levelled

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 18.—Through the tornado which, accompanied by a severe electrical storm, swept over this section yesterday afternoon, not a single house, barn or stable was left intact in Jacksonville. The 1000 inhabitants of the place are camping in the fields. Scores are suffering from hurts of a more or less serious character, and physicians have been sent from neighboring towns. Members of the Unity Presbyterian church had close escapes from death when the tornado tore the roof from the building.

Last night the greater portion of southern Washington county was cut off from the outside world, and it was impossible to make an accurate estimate of the entire loss in the tornado. Figures received show that at least $100,000 worth of property was destroyed, without making any estimate on a large number of valuable orchards swept away and summer crops simply wiped out.

It was the worst storm that ever visited Washington and Green counties, and last night a good part of the affected district remained stunned and unable to take any steps to find out just what had been lost.

The storm followed no fixed direction, but worked its way around over a wide stretch of territory, sometimes cutting a swath a mile wide, while in other sections its path was not more than a hundred yards in width.

Present Price System Wrong

That the present price system is wrong is easily seen by comparing prices which we pay for articles at the store with their actual manufacturing cost when the latter can be learned. Usually the store price is nearly double the manufacturer's price. For instance, we pay $3.00 for a pair of trousers, but the manufacturer's cost is only $1.50. In a short time such a saving as this becomes great. Write today to Larkin Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and ask them for a copy of their large Catalog, R.25. This explains their plan to you in detail, and describes the five hundred household supplies which they supply you at such big savings.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Five patrolmen were dismissed for attacks upon citizens, and a sergeant was dropped for incivility in making an arrest, by order of Police Commissioner Waldo, made public last night. Six other dismissals were made for various causes. The list follows:

Henry Vebstedt, sergeant, sixth precinct, June 6, was not quiet, civil and orderly while making arrest.

Theodore Schreiber, eighth precinct, May 31, failed to arrest beggar.

Emil Kepko, twenty-first precinct, May 28, (1) failed to take proper police action; (2) failed to promptly respond to call for assistance.

Patrick Fee, twenty-first precinct, June 4, struck man on head with butt end of revolver while in civilian clothes.

James J. O'Connell, twenty-first precinct, June 4, struck man on head with butt end of revolver while in civilian clothes.

William P. Fagan, twenty-first precinct, June 4, (1) failed to take proper police action; (2) failed to report case of assault.

Michael J. Sullivan, twenty-first precinct, June 4, (1) failed to take proper police action; (2) failed to report case of assault.

James V. Riordan, thirty-sixth precinct, June 4, struck man with night baton without cause.

Christian L. Zimmer, C. O. Squad, June 4, struck man in the face with fist without cause.

THE CHICAGO CONFLICT

In spite of all the efforts of Justice Hughes to suppress the report that he is a dark horse in the presidential race, it is still current, and there are many who believe that he will be nominated as a compromise candidate. He has declared emphatically that under no circumstances would he accept the nomination, and he has repeatedly stated that this declaration is final. Nevertheless, should a deadlock occur there are many politicians who would be glad to see Justice Hughes nominated as the best solution of the difficulty which now threatens the existence of the republican party.

Ex-President Roosevelt is now on the ground, and it can be assumed that he will do everything in his power to stampede the convention, and to have as many delegates as possible break away from their allegiance to Taft. The report stated Sunday afternoon to the effect that many of the southern delegations had actually gone over to the Roosevelt camp was probably the result of an effort to accomplish that end. Some of the delegates did break away, but there were not enough to justify the report of a general stampede of the southern delegates to the Roosevelt camp.

What is wanted among the Taft forces is a tactful leader. With such a leader they should be able to win without difficulty, but otherwise the big bully is liable to gain a sufficient number of points to accomplish the defeat of his opponent. He will stop short of nothing that he may deem necessary to carry the day. Already some of the Taft delegates have made affidavits that they have been offered large sums as bribes in order to induce them to go over. There is very little doubt that money has been used for the purchase of delegates by the Roosevelt forces in spite of the fact that he is now, as he has been from the beginning, charging his opponents with all kinds of fraud and trickery.

FIGHTING THE WHITE PLAGUE

During the hot weather a great deal can be done in the fight against tuberculosis. By successful treatment the incipient cases can be cured and those that have attained a serious stage may be effectively checked by outdoor life, exercise, good food and rest which are the ingredients that count in the fight against the white plague.

During the last ten years the death rate from tuberculosis in the United States fell from 196.9 for each 100,000 persons to 160.3, a decrease of 18.7 per cent., while the general death rate, including all causes of death, declined only half as fast or at the rate of 9.7 per cent. These are the figures of the census bureau, and they show that the fight against tuberculosis is bearing good fruit. It is, therefore, desirable to keep it up so that the percentages of deaths from year to year will be steadily reduced. It is to be expected that the decline in the death rate from this disease during the next ten years would be very much larger than during the last ten.

THE PARCELS POST

The parcels post, if we can ever get it, will be of great benefit to the people in offering a quick method of delivering small packages. It would bring the producer and the consumer closer together and thus eliminate some of the extortions that are practised by the greedy middlemen. Two bills are before congress, the Sulzer bill and the Bourne bill, but there does not seem to be a sufficient popular demand for this improvement to move congress to decisive action. Yet the parcels post would assist the people in cutting down the cost of living, it would protect them against the extortion and the delay of express companies and would accomplish a great reform.

AVIATION ACCIDENTS

The various causes of aviation accidents have been classified under several heads which are about equally divided between the machine and the aviator. The machine has a wrong principle, or some of its parts are too light to bear the resistance of the air when they are in rapid motion. On the other hand the aviator is inexperienced or else loses his head even when there is no special danger. The wind or other condition of the atmosphere is another cause that must always be considered, and some aviators have lost their lives by going up in high wind when none but the foolhardy would venture a flight.

The state of Missouri has a law making it a felony for a motorist who runs over, injures, or kills a pedestrian to pass on without leaving his name or the number of his license. The law was recently tested by an appeal to the supreme court, and was fully sustained as a reasonable exercise of the police power. Such a law should exist in every state in the union, merely to prevent as far as possible the escape of reckless drivers who knock down pedestrians and pass on without stopping to inquire whether the victims have been killed or seriously injured. So many lives have been taken by reckless motorists that some law of this kind is an absolute necessity here in Massachusetts. The speed limit has been abolished in this state as a result of a decision of the supreme court, and now the driver alone is the judge of the rate of speed at which he can drive. It seems to be the rule that no matter how fast he drives he cannot violate the law unless he kills somebody, and even then he generally escapes on the ground that the person killed was to blame for getting in the way.

One of our readers complains that it is customary with some new police officers to make a record for arrests by pulling in men who are slightly intoxicated, and who might more properly be sent to their homes. It is easy for a police officer to get up a colloquy with a man who is slightly intoxicated in order to find a pretext for his arrest. The officers who would be guilty of such conduct, if there are any, are not doing their duty. A record for unnecessary arrests is worse than no arrests at all, and the officers should be led to understand that this is a fact.

Edison says he can spend his money to better advantage than by giving it to Tech or any other college. Perhaps he can. In his opinion the only proper use of money is experimentation on electric and other inventions. He hints that Rockefeller and Frick have more money than they know what to do with. They should receive all the assistance they need.

Unfortunately after the great labor meeting on Boston common, the strikers fell on the police and gave some of them a good mauling. That did not help their cause. The whole trouble should be arbitrated. Compulsory arbitration should be provided in all cases in which a strike inflicts any injury or inconvenience upon the public.

What of an appropriation for the Fourth of July? We imagine the man who would mention such a proposition would have his name put upon the recall list.

Seen and Heard

Perhaps you may have the idea that there is no such thing as love at first sight, but did you ever see a hundred-dollar bill?

A pretty girl sometimes isn't until she gets ready to be seen.

The man who slaps you on the back in hot weather probably doesn't realize fully what a fearful risk he runs.

Sometimes it is impossible to keep your friends, even by doing favors for them all the time.

LIFE'S SELF-DEFENSE
They do me wrong who say that life's more full
Of sunless sorrow than it is of song.
Through every day, in measures beautiful,
The joy of utter living rolls along.

The frequent sorrow and the petty care serve to blind the masses to the truth.

That for each sorrow and each dark despair
Life holds in equal measure hope and youth.

They do me wrong who claim that I am hard,
That I am cruel and bitter, when I hold
So much of tenderness and loving cheer,
With wandering wings my children to enfold.

They are unjust who claim that I am false
To all fair promise, when my whole desire
Is that my children may in deed fulfill
The dreams toward which their burning souls aspire.

They do me wrong who cry that want and we
Are far more plentiful in life than joy.
When down the years wherever men may go
The very sunbeams of my will destroy.

The dark and care and shadows which men bring Upon themselves—I'm always helping those
Who cannot climb, to rise on my own wing
Unto the promised beauty of the rose.

I am not dark and dreary and forlorn,
My days are deep in numerous happy dreams;
My way is one that leads to hopeful morn
Where man's success upon the summit gleams.

All, all I ask is purpose, will and right,
An apt obedience to the common rule
That only truth can take or give the light
While I am master of the human school.

Which is the more to be pitied, the man who has no ideals or the man who has nothing else?

Some people when they estimate how rich they are figure how much they have got and how much they can buy on credit.

There are some drawbacks even to great wealth. Think of having to pay taxes on a million dollars' worth of property!

The good-natured man has a lot of friends, but how he is imposed on!

Meanness! It is surprising how mean some people can be. Last Friday afternoon a female patron of the street railway boarded a car and tendered the conductor a dollar bill for

NATURE'S FOOD-MEDICINE
There is nothing in the world more beneficial to you, whether you are sick and want to get well and strong again, or if well to stay well, than pure olive oil. Physicians today are recommending Pompeian Olive Oil, because of its purity, to thousands of patients, and so wide is its beneficial effect, that it may be referred to as a panacea for nearly all ills. It is nearly every case, it accomplishes what is expected of it, and in this way it could almost be referred to as a specific.

Pompeian Olive Oil is a food without equal. It builds up the tissues, enriches the blood and restores strength. It is a medicine because it aids digestion, relieves and prevents constipation and strengthens the body to throw off disease. Being easy to digest it is of the greatest value to people suffering with weak stomachs.

The very best results from Pompeian Olive Oil are obtained when it is taken regularly with each meal, either plain or over salads or foods. It is most palatable even to those who never used olive oil and who think it has a greasy, unpleasant taste. Pompeian Olive Oil has a sweet, nutty flavor, not to be found in any other kind. This is due to the fact that Pompeian is from the first pressing of hand picked Italian olives and is not chemically treated.

her fare. He put the bill in his pocket, dug down into another and gave her a half dollar, when something required his presence at the rear of the car, and when he returned she said to him: "Give me my change." He remembered she had given him a dollar, and he dug down and proceeds to give her 55 cents. Did she remind him he had previously given her a half dollar? Oh, no; not on your life. When the car got to Merrimack square she got lost in the shuffle just as quick as she could, and the conductor was short a half dollar when he came to square up that night.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The Temple Players at the Merrimack Square theatre were given a real send-off yesterday by the regular patrons of this popular house, as this is their last week after an engagement of eight consecutive weeks. The attendance at both performances yesterday was very large and when the Temple Players appeared in their novel sketch entitled "A Night at the Cabaret," which was their parting piece, they were given a real ovation. Song after song was applauded to the echo showing the real popularity these players enjoy in this city. The real "Good-Bye" performance will be given at a special concert Sunday afternoon and evening when each member of the cast will appear in his or her most popular number during their stay here.

There are two other rich numbers on this week's bill. Le Reux, impersonator and character change artist, who is very clever in his make-up. Claude Austin, the eddy, is a comedy juggler and his act is well up. He is very entertaining and some of his stunts are unusually clever.

The photo-plays for the first three days of the week are again among the best picture-plays shown locally. They include comedy offerings, dramatic productions and educational series that are especially good. The temperature of the theatre is always cool and comfortable.

THEATRE VOYONS

You have read many times of Sherlock Holmes and other great detectives, but seldom of a woman. In "Ketchum Kate" a comedy by the Biograph company a stenographer turns detective with the aid of a fake detective agency and strange to relate, really does capture a crook. "Neighbors," another comedy is a snappy bright affair with just enough burlesque to amuse. "The Gun Smugglers," a strong Kalem drama of the Mexican revolution is a thriller and "Ten Days on a U. S. Battleship" is a most interesting educational film. The musical selections are most pleasing.

ALWAYS SUSPECT YOUR STOMACH

Do Not Be Fooled by Misleading Symptoms.

If your digestion is out of order you may have symptoms that will mislead you into thinking you have heart disease, kidney trouble, some nervous or blood disorder. Better look to the stomach first. It is here that the blood gets its nourishment. If the digestion is disordered, the blood will be out of order. Poor digestion fills the blood with poisons. This impure blood poisons every tissue of the body. The dyspeptic awakes in the morning with a dull, heavy head and irritable, melancholy, and dizzy because the brain, nerves and muscles have been poisoned from the stomach.

Mrs. W. F. Rauland, whose address is R. F. D. No. 1, West Kennelunk, Mo., says: "I tried two doctors and both failed to help me. I had a bad stomach and did not think I would ever get well. My stomach would pain me severely at times, which I believe was due to gas forming on it. Sometimes my food would cause sour stomach. My liver was torpid. I had palpitation of the heart and if I walked fast my heart would beat rapidly and I would get all out of breath. I had hot flashes all over my body. I was extremely nervous and if excited would tremble like a leaf and have no control over my actions. Towards the last when I was so sick, my head ached over the eyes affecting the sight. I had frequent spells of weakness and would have to lie down and rest. I had neither strength nor ambition and did my work indifferently. I lost greatly in weight. I had been sick for several years when a friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People because they had helped her and I began to take them. It is wonderful how they helped me. I soon felt better and was so pleased that I continued their use until I was cured. I am willing to tell anyone of my cure and have recommended the pills to many people."

A new edition of the booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat," is free on request. Send a postal for it to day and begin to cure yourself by following the directions it contains.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

JAIL SENTENCE FOR AN AUTOIST

Who While Drunk Ran Over a Little Girl

GLOUCESTER, June 18.—In the eastern district court yesterday Albert P. Jewell was found guilty of recklessly operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and sentenced to the house of correction for a term of three months. Last Friday morning Jewell, who is the driver for an express company, ran down and seriously injured Grace Laffy, a school girl, at the corner of Church and Prospect streets.

The automobile passed over her body and she was taken to the hospital in a serious condition. Jewell went to the police station and told of the accident, and yesterday in court Chief of Police Poland told the court that at the time the defendant was in his office he was intoxicated, and admitted that he had taken several drinks that morning. Marshal Poland stated that the man acted as though he did not care any more about the accident than if he had merely lost a tire.

Several schoolmates of the little girl testified that the machine was going at a fast rate of speed, and that although Jewell shouted "Look out," that he did not try to change the course of the automobile and that the machine was not stopped until it was nearly 350 feet away, and even then Jewell did not come near the girl whom he had injured.

Captain Bowie, a passerby, testified that when Jewell turned in from Middle street to go up Church street his machine shot to the left and struck the curbstone and that before he had control of it, it shot to the other side of the street and hit that curbstone. He said that the man was intoxicated, and admitted that he had taken several drinks that morning. Marshal Poland stated that the man acted as though he did not care any more about the accident than if he had merely lost a tire.

"SKIDDING" ACCIDENTS

Could be Prevented by Use of Chain

Automobile accidents which are being chronicled almost daily in every section of the country detail injuries to motorists who caused the accidents, because they do not take the ordinary precaution of skid-proofing their cars with tire chains, and also detail injuries to innocent bystanders who are so unfortunate as to be in the path of the skidding automobiles. The skidding accidents which have occurred recently in this state are only a few of many which happen in every part of the country. If every driver and owner of an automobile would take the ordinary precaution of carrying tire chains in their car and attach them when the roads and streets are in a wet, slippery condition, nine-tenths of all automobile accidents would be eliminated.

All motorists should be considered as criminally negligent when evidence is exhibited to the courts proving that their cars were not equipped with an efficient anti-skidding device. It is as necessary for motorists to use tire chains when the conditions call for them as it is for them to light their lamps when darkness overtakes them.

Several schoolmates of the little girl testified that the machine was going at a fast rate of speed, and that although Jewell shouted "Look out," that he did not try to change the course of the automobile and that the machine was not stopped until it was nearly 350 feet away, and even then Jewell did not come near the girl whom he had injured.

MAN DROWNED

LIVES OF TWO OTHERS WERE ENDANGERED

BOSTON, June 18.—Ernest Rohlfeder, 23, of Schenectady, N. Y., was drowned in Spy pond late yesterday afternoon and endangered the lives of Ernest L. Venghaus, 18, and his sister, Miss Margaret Venghaus, 17, of Cambridge, by rocking over the canoe in which they were paddling.

Rohlfeder sank in 35 feet of water on overturning the canoe which precipitated all three into the water in view of scores of other boating parties.

As Rohlfeder sank, both the Venghaus managed to cling to the overturned canoe and from which they were taken a few minutes later by William Kirlin and Cornelius Leary, both of Arlington, in a dory.

Both the rescued were almost exhausted upon being brought ashore and had to receive medical treatment before they were able to leave for home. (The accident occurred at about 4.30 o'clock.)

THE AMERICANS

CONTINUE TO TRAIN ON BOARD SHIP

ON BOARD THE S. S. FINLAND, AT SEA, BY WIRELESS, VIA SIAS-CONSET, Mass., June 18.

The training of the large team of athletes who are proceeding to Stockholm to represent the United States in the Olympic games is being kept up with the utmost vigor, and as far as the circumstances permit on shipboard will permit the daily work of the men is similar to that which they would encounter if they were on land. Both morning and afternoon all the men except a half dozen who are seafarer turn out on deck for hard practice under the direction of Trainer Murphy, who is endeavoring to keep them in thorough physical condition so that when they reach land a few tryouts on shore will bring them to the top of their proper form.

The swimming tanks on board are very popular among the athletes to whom they have proved of great benefit. One of them stretched a beam on the after deck. This creates a surf effect when the ship rolls which is greatly enjoyed. On Sunday a church service was held in the dining saloon.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Henry J. Sullivan and Mrs.
Sarah O'Connor were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at two o'clock at the rectory of the Immaculate Conception church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Fr. McQuill, O. M. I. The couple were attended by Mr. Edward Sullivan, brother of the groom, and Miss Mary O'Connor, sister of the bride. The bride was beautifully gowned in white marquisette, wore a picture hat and carried a bou-quet of white roses. The bridegroom was of white tuxedo, and carried a picture hat and carried Killarney roses. The new home was handsomely decorated with festoons of laurel and ferns. After the wedding dinner the happy couple left on the 6:25 train for New York and Prov-

THE FIREMEN

HAD ANOTHER GREAT PRACTICE DRILL LAST NIGHT

The members of Engine 1 Hose 2 and Truck 1 had an excellent practice drill last night. The men were ordered to the Federal Shoe shop and under the supervision of District Chief Sullivan, they were sent up the ladders to the top of the building and then were ordered to carry up boxes of hose. The men went at their work with enthusiasm and the drill was entirely satisfactory.

WORK ON THE NEW SUN BUILDING

STEEL FRAME WORK OF THE NEW SUN BUILDING

Steel Framework Completed and Howes Construction Co. is Now Putting in Concrete Floors—Rapid Progress Made

About ten weeks have elapsed since the R. H. Howes Construction Co. undertook to demolish the old three-story Sun building. In that time the old building has been demolished, the basement excavated, the retaining walls and footings built down to bed rock and grouted in solid ledge and the steel of the new ten-story edifice has been practically all set in. The men are now preparing the forms for the concrete floors. The first of the granite base has been already laid and the brick work it is expected will be started in a week or ten days.

The wrecking of the old building which was constructed of brick, was started on April 4, and 17 days later the excavation was finished. The first piles or footings for columns were placed on April 25th, while on May 14th the first steel columns were set in place.

The steel setting has gradually progressed since and some days ago the berick was taken down as all the steel columns through to the tenth story have been set, and all the steel in the building is in place except the pent house of the roof for the elevator machinery. The third and fourth floor arches have been formed and the company is now putting in the concrete floors.

The above picture is from a photo taken on May Day, June 14, and every day's work changes the appearance of the structure, as the Howes Construction company does not mean to let this job hang fire.

BIG ADDITION TO BE BUILT TO ELECTRIC LIGHT CO'S PLANTMayor O'Donnell Inspected Public Sanitarium in Several Cities
—Other City Hall News

The Lowell Electric Light corporation has perfected its plans for a big addition to its power station in Perry street. A permit for the addition, which will be a large building in itself, was issued at the office of the inspector of buildings this forenoon.

The new building or addition will be used for stock rooms, meter room and garage. The building will be of brick, 100 feet 7 inches by 92 feet and will be two stories high. Stone & Webster Co.
are the engineers, and Daniel H.
Walker the builder. The estimated cost of the new building is $15,000.

Other permits issued at the office of the inspector of buildings this forenoon included a two apartment house at 137 Riverside street and Plymouth street. The building will be 37 by 65 feet, two and one-half stories, and the estimated cost is $6000.

Nora Shugrue was granted a permit for additions and alterations at 219 Cross street. The additions include a bathroom and kitchen, 11 by 22 feet, and the permit includes the moving of carriage sheds and the changing over of a barn to a six room cottage.

Lawrence Visitors

Mayor Scanlon, City Treasurer Kel-lher of Lawrence and Dr. George L.
Black, also of Lawrence, were visitors at Mayor O'Donnell's office yesterday.
Dr. Black was formerly house physician at St. John's hospital.

A Very Dangerous Spot

It has been stated by automobilists that Pawtucket square, where Main road, Varum avenue and Riverside street intersect, is one of the danger spots in this section of the country and acting upon the recommendation of Paulman Hamilton, who looks after that section during the day, Commissioner Brown has had a sign put up there warning automobilists of the danger. Mr. Hamilton says he has witnessed some pretty narrow escapes at the point in question and he believes that a sign or two will be of great assistance in preventing accident. Commissioner Brown has also made arrangements to have signs posted near schoolhouses, admonishing automobilists to go slow.

Police Sanitary Question

Mayor O'Donnell, who was appointed a committee of one by the municipal for the ball game. The contest was between the Tool shop team and the Pick of the Shop and the "Pick Ups" won by the score of 5 to 2. The game was a very good one and the crowd will suggest, and despite the fact that there were several old timers connected with both teams the game was replete with fine batting, fielding and base running.

The game started at 11 o'clock and the teams lined up as follows:
Shop team—Breen C, Riley P, Crowe lb, Thurber 2b, H. Mullen ss, Marren lb, Cunningham rf, Murphy cf, and Cameron lf.

Tool House team—Holmes C, T. Mullen p, T. Boudreau lb, Holden 2b, Silcox 2b, Rousseau ss, Griffin lf, J. Boudreau cf, Williams rf.

The game went seven innings by agreement and the pitching of Riley was a feature of the contest. Breen did the catching for Riley and his work was of a high order. The fielding stunts pulled off by Silcox and J.
Boudreau were of the circus variety and several of their fine catches elicited considerable applause. At the end of the seventh inning with the score
6 to 2 in favor of the Picks, Umpire George Kaneuf called the game. He worked like a big leaguer as lig-htener man and not a kick was registered against his decisions. The winning team was presented a box of "smokes."

After the game, all repaired to the dining-room, near the water's edge, where a dinner "fit for kings" was served. The meal was prepared by Henderson Brothers and several members of the committee assisted in serving. For the first course, a fine fish chowder was placed on the tables, then baked blue fish, mashed potatoes, steamed clams, vegetable salad, lobster, coffee and rolls. The attendance was so large that it was necessary to set the tables several times but all were there and had a good feed.

After the inner man had been well taken care of the members of the party returned to the ball grounds where an excellent list of sports was run off.
One of the features of the program was a four-round boxing exhibition between Jockey Brady and Gardner Brooks. The boys demonstrated all the blows and incidentally slipped over a few good haymakers. The "Go" proved very enjoyable to all. John O'Brien and Philip Lapan, two "heavies" who copped a few "pointers" from the "Kicks" got to it for three rounds, and their "number" furnished great amusement for all.

In the other contests which were all hotly contested suitable prizes were awarded the winners. Nelson Holmes won the 100-yard dash in a little over 11 seconds. Tommy Boudreau was second. James Riley came out a winner in the hop, step and jump, doing 36 feet and seven inches. Michael Cunningham came across the tape first in the sack
